WE NOMINATE

Robert Henry Dicke, a leading and highly inventive physicist, who this week returns to TOWN TOPICS' cover on the basis that so much of modern physics rests on such a small platform of observation that he is disturbed. Over the weekend, before an audience of theorists and experimenters drawn from as far as India, Japan and the Soviet Union, the 50-year old Dicke suggested that his findings, if true and correctly interpreted, would invalidate Albert Einstein's general theory of relativity — a conclusion which would topple the foundations of modern physics and would actually place the superstructure of physics on a much firmer base.

It was Dicke's conclusion, supported by some four months of daily usage of a combination optical and photoelectric telescope in a "shack" just east of Palmer Memorial Stadium, that the sun is oblate, or flattened, at its poles. The effect of this flattening is sufficient, he said, to explain a significant portion of the orbital behavior of Mercury, the planet closest to the sun, without recourse to relativity. It had been the conformity of Mercury's orbit to Einstein's predictions that was a chief pillar of the theory, first published in 1916, the year that Dicke was born in St. Louis, Missouri.

Described by a collaborator as being "unusual among scientists today" because he is "a theoretician and experimentalist," Dicke, in an age when much physical research requires multi-million-dollar accelerators and other expensive pieces of equipment, has designed and used relatively simple apparatus to carry forward "exquisitely precise studies of the basic assumptions of science." One example was his test of the principle that the gravitational acceleration of different objects is independent of their composition, while two years ago

Dicke and his associates helped prove that, if the universe was born in the explosion of a primordial fireball, radiation from the "big bang" is detectable in radio waves from space.

Dicke's interest in instrumentation has led him to innovations useful far beyond the reaches of experimental physics. Dr. Charles H. Townes and Dr. Arthur L. Shawlow, who are generally accredited with inventing the laser, a device producing an incredibly bright beam of light, have acknowledged that Dicke conceived of an essential feature of the device long before they did. This feature is a pair of mirrors, one semi-transparent, facing each other from the ends of the tube in which light is produced. Dicke applied for a patent on infra-red laser in 1956 — two years before the Townes-Shawlow patent application became a matter of record.

A consultant to industry and government, Dicke received his bachelor's degree with the Princeton Class of 1939, after having transferred to Princeton from the University of Rochester where he amazed his professors, and the nation, by being the only one of 10,000 college students in the country to submit a perfect paper in a country-wide physics test. During World War II, after he had earned his doctorate in nuclear physics at Rochester, Dicke worked with a radar research team at M.I.T. and from Cambridge moved to Princeton in 1946, becoming the Cyrus Fogg Brackett Professor of Physics a decade later.

For sharing with others his sense of excitement in man's unending search for new knowledge; for his continuing investigations of the most intriguing problem of modern science, the nature of the universe; for ranking among the world's most stimulating men of science; he is our nominee as

GOODBYE, MAILMAN!
Friends Give Party. "I regard Leroy Page as a personal friend," said one man, in a tone of surprise that anyone should even raise the question.

Leroy Page, 281 Hamilton Avenue, was guest of honor Tuesday afternoon at a party honoring his 26 years on Postal Route No. 4, and the day of his retirement from the postal service.

More than 50 people in the Broadmead-Cedar Lane-Fitz Randolph area paced by Mr. Page went to the party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Goldberger, 125 Fitz-Randolph. Mr. Page received a gift wallet containing a gift certificate and more congratulations than a man could wish for in a lifetime.

His official retirement began at 2:30 Tuesday and the party started exactly one hour later.

A spare, leonine man, who still wears the same size uniform he wore in 1935, Mr. Page estimates that he makes about 225 trips a year. "About four years ago, I began a 1,000-trip countdown toward January 31, 1967!"

"Now," he said, Monday at the end of trip 999, stretching his long legs in front of the maple rocker in his living room and locking his hands behind his head, "Now, The Boss and I are going to take a trip to Hawaii—leaving on February 18, be gone a month."

"The Boss" is Dorothy Cook Page, a Princeton girl, and like her husband and two children, a graduate of Princeton High.

Here, Fido! Mr. Page is known chiefly as the dogs' Pied Piper. Pockets full of dog biscuits, a friendly whistle on his lips, he draws them along as he goes.

"Why, I do it out of affection, not defense" he exclaims. "I love dogs—always have. I've only been bitten once in 32 years in the postal service (you see, I worked for the post office for six years before they gave me Route Four!)"

"I think I've got about 12-15 dogs right now. That's the regulars, but sometimes another dog will barge in on our crew . . . you know how it is with dogs."

One of Mr. Page's favorites is a big, beautiful collie called Sammy who lives at 239 Western Way. Sammy always pleks up the mailman at the corner of Western and Broadmead and follows him on an unvarying route before trotting home.

THE TRAIL ENDS AFTER 32 YEARS: Leroy Page, who has carried the mail for Uncle Sam since 1935, retired on Tuesday. Mr. Page is shown here with a picture given to him by one family in appreciation of his services beyond the call of duty. His grateful patrons on Route 4 gave him a party— one which his many canine friends would like to have attended, too. Story in "This Is Princeton." (Staff Photo)

And the children . . . in the summertime, they join the dogs in a prancing Pied Piper train. "Sometimes with the little children, I'd give them a ride in my mailbag," Mr. Page chuckles. "That's pretty exciting!"

Record February Issue

The current issue of TOWN TOPICS, running to 52 pages, is 12 pages larger than the corresponding issue published a year ago. It is the largest TOWN TOPICS has ever published in February.

One of his friends in a Prospect Avenue house had a new little baby girl one day. Mr. Page used to give her a silent "hello" as she lay asleep outdoors in her carriage. After a time, she smiled at him from her playpen. Then she'd pump after him on her tricycle.

She waved to him when she came home from school for lunch, and often on Saturdays she'd call out "Hi, Mr. Page!" before going off to a football game. Soon, she was shouting "Merry Christmas!" when she came home from college on vacation, and now she is a young Princeton matron with children of her own.

"I meet her on the street once in a while and she'll always smile and say 'Hi, Mr. Page!' the way she did when she was a kid. A really beautiful person. She was my best 'follower'!"

But it takes more than a friendly grin and affection for dogs to make a mailman, and Mr. Page has what it takes.

"He's Excellent!" "He takes care of us when we're stupid," said one woman on Route Four. "You go off in the summer and maybe you forget to leave a note about your mail, and Mr. Page will hold your mail until you get back."

"He's fantastically excellent," said another woman.

"He knows precisely what you can do about all that mail you get that nobody wants. He'll tell you what kinds of mail you can send back, and what you can do to get off somebody's mailing list."

"Well, it's a challenging route," Mr. Page explains. "I got it originally because I was the junior man in the department and it was a route with an awful lot of mail. But I like it: there's more mail, and it's good mail: more of the first-rate magazines and more first-class mail."

"People will get on what we call 'goat lists' and if they want me to, I'll take that mail to the relay box. Then it goes back to the post office to be destroyed. You don't HAVE to accept any mail, you know. Not many people realize that."

"I Serve." Mr. Page regards his job as a service. "The post office is a service organization—or it should be—and when I'm working, I'm serving."

Repellitous? Mr. Page has never thought so. At first, he made two trips a day, 10 a week, and delivered to all the departmental offices at the University. With increased volume and a one-trip schedule, this changed.

"Besides, how could it be repetitious?" he asks. "Every day is different: the dogs, the children, the different people who stop to talk to you, the new faces that move in—why, there are only about 25 people left in that route who were there when I started!"

Mr. Page is one mailman who doesn't mind weather. He wears a summer uniform, year 'round, adding a sweater when it's cold.

"I'd rather carry mail in bad weather than be home," he says. "If I'm home, bad

"Wood Is My Hobby." What
Mr. Page wants to do may well be to build a house. He is a skillful carpenter, in great demand on his hours and days off. He built the house the Pages now live in, and before that, in 1948-49, he built the two-story house next door at 273 Hamilton.

"Wood is my real hobby," he says warmly, "but you know I'll bet I've got fewer power tools than any man in Princeton, a lathe, an emery wheel, a power saw and a hand-drill — that's all. The rest,
I do by hand."

"I'm a physically active man and a hand-active man," Mr.
Page says. "I think the man who is active with his hands is luckier than the man who's active with his mind. You've got to use your hands — if all you do is lift a deck of cards — or you're licked! You're under a great inward strain and you're mentally tight — not free."

Back home from Hawaii in March, Mr. Page does not plan to let those hands lie idle.
He's got floors in his own house to re-do, woodwork to paint, work to do for other people's houses, like painting or building a new porch. Maybe he'll go back to Iowa for some hunting. He's been there before, visiting his daughter, Mrs. Caroline Leaton, in Cedar Rapids. His son, Captain
Leroy Page II, is an Army career man now in Texas preparing for a second tour of duty in Viet Nam.

He smiles and looks far off and stretches out those long legs again. "When warm weather comes, then I'll see . . ."
One thing he knows he'll do from now on, and that's to wave a cheerful greeting to all those personal friends on Route Four.

SCHOOL VOTE NEAR

Next Tuesday. The new Princeton Regional school district's first election will be held next Tuesday from 5 to 9 p.m. Voters will elect a complete nine-man board and pass on the budget.

In the borough, all five incumbents are unopposed on the ballot, but rumors of a quiet write-in campaign have been circulating in the community.

Sponsors of a write-in would count on most voters staying home in the face of an uncontested election, and supporters of the present Borough membership on the board have been urging Borough voters to cast a "vote of confidence" for the whole Borough slate.

In the Township, five candidates are competing for two seats in the two-year-term category. Other candidates are unopposed.

In prepared statements and at the League of Women Voters candidates' meeting last Wednesday, candidates did not seem much different from one other. All are in favor of an excellent school system, although Mr. Fox' statement, "excellence of education within a cost structure we are able to support," may mean that he would be an economy board member if elected.

Most candidates regard the selection of a superintendent as the most important thing to do next. Dr. Harvey Rothberg, president of the board, said this week he hoped the board could make a selection before the end of March.

The list of candidates follows:

TOWNSHIP

Charles Jaffin, 522 Rosedale Road, incumbent, a single one-year-term uncontested, resident of Princeton 14 years; live children; graduate of Princeton University, law degree from Columbia, member of New York law firm.

Two year term. Two seats, five candidates.

Herbert Bailey, 53 Hun Road, incumbent. Resident of Princeton 20 years; four children; graduate of Princeton; Director of the Princeton University Press; chairman of the Township's long-range school planning committee, 1963-64; member of a national Committee on Reading Development for the past seven years.

Orlando Petrocelli, 95 Cuyler Road, unsuccessful write-in candidate, 1966; resident of Princeton 11 years; three children; graduate of LaSalle Extension University; business manager, D. Van Nostrand.

Winthrop S. Pike, 101 Leabrook Lane, resident of Princeton 20 years; six children; graduate of Williams College; member of the technical staff, RCA.

Carl L. Sonnenschein, 21 Castle Howard Court, resident of Princeton six years; two children; graduate University of Michigan; doctorate from Illinois; president and director TIA Electric Company, Princeton.

Howard A. Fox, 140 Hunt Drive, resident of Princeton seven years; three children; graduate Wharton School of Business Administration, University of Pennsylvania; president of real estate and construction firm.

Three-year term. One seat, uncontested.

Mrs. Suzanne Fremon, 311 Western Way, incumbent; resident of Princeton 11 years; four children; graduate of Barnard College; free-lance writer; vice chairman of Mr. Bailey's committee on Township school planning.

BOROUGH

In the Borough, there are five uncontested candidates. For three-year terms, two members:

Dr. Harvey Rothberg, 44 Robert Road; resident of Princeton seven years; two children; graduate of Princeton and Harvard Medical School. Dr. Rothberg was elected to the Borough Board in 1965 and has been president of the Regional Board since July.

Mrs. Bonnie L. Wagner, 24 Sturges Way; resident of Princeton for many years; three children; graduate of Whitman College; wide service in Borough PTA; member of the Borough Board of Health, 1957-66, elected to Borough Board in 1965, named to the Regional Board in July.

Two-year term, one member, uncontested.

"Do-it-yourself" enthusiasts should be as much concerned with accident prevention and proper first aid procedures as they are with the ambitious projects they undertake."

"The really well-equipped home handyman should have adequate first aid equipment on hand to cope with emergencies. This is best accomplished by keeping a comprehensive first aid kit in the workshop."

The following tips are offered to avoid some of the most common injuries encountered in home improvement work:

1. If unaccustomed to physical labor, avoid lifting heavy objects. If heavy lifting is necessary, do it properly; do not lift by using back or abdominal muscles alone, but take advantage of the stronger muscles of the legs.

Wear gloves to avoid blisters, minor cuts and scrapes.

2. If the project calls for reaching high places, use a ladder — and never try to use a makeshift platform, boxes or chairs. Inspect ladders before using, for defects such as loose rungs and weakened hinges.

Always have a helper standing by at the bottom of the ladder, to hand up things as needed, and to prevent the ladder from sliding.

3. When working with power tools, make sure they are properly grounded to avoid the possibility of shock. Check the manufacturer's instructions and observe all recommended safety procedures no matter how trivial they might seem.

ICE PATROL FORMING
For Lake Carnegie. Plans for a Lake Carnegie ice patrol are under way after an exploratory meeting held Monday evening.

Twenty-six skaters turned out for an hour-long session in Princeton High School with Peter Cook, PHS hockey coach, and Sgt. Jack Petrone, Princeton Township safety officer.

"We're not going to be a body-sitting service, but an ice patrol trying to show some of the dos and don'ts around ice, to be trained in giving first aid and in how to go about a rescue," Sgt. Petrone said. "One biggest problem will be to get people to skate in the two areas where they are allowed to skate."

An expanded meeting will be held at 8 p.m. this Monday in the high school cafeteria to work on first aid methods with Raymond Rodewell of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad and ice rescue techniques with Sgt. Petrone.

Tragedy Happens. The spectator at Monday's meeting was the deaths of four Princeton children in ice accidents during the past three years.

"All these drownings have been in isolated spots. What can we do to have some con-

Six More Weeks of What?

Groundhog, will you Go below?"

Those who take fright at the sight of their shadows like our fabled friend of February 2 — might just as well go below right now. Sunny or not on Groundhog Day, there are six more weeks of winter left on the calendar.

For the immediate future some precipitation is in sight. After all, January produced less than half of its normal quota. Rain about sundown Thursday and again over the weekend is a possibility.

Not over these areas?" "Is it possible to patrol the lake along the tow path in a car or jeep with a bull horn?" "What about a telephone or short wave equipment?"

Edmund D. Cook of Lake Drive asked, "What should those of us do who live along the lake when we see people on the ice?" Sgt. Petrone suggested that residents along the lake call the police and "let them handle it from there," as the only areas where skating will be permitted are the vicinity of the sailboat dock on the Princeton-Kingston Road and at the northerly side of the Washington Road Bridge.

This prohibits a number of lakefront dwellers from skating in front of their homes, a restriction Mr. Cook said that he, for one, would go along with. Sgt. Petrone said he hoped that the Township and Princeton University, which owns the lake, would cooperate in effecting ordinances giving police control of the lake.

The situation is complicated, he added, by the fact that considerable skating is done in front of St. Joseph's College.

"This is Plainsboro Township, and out of our jurisdiction. Two children drowned there." A resident suggested involving the college in the ice patrol.

The Lovers. "The problem is often people off on their own," Peter Cook told the group. "If we can just be official without being officious, know all parts of the lake, know our job and stay in the background until something happens, and have a looksee at some of these danger spots where kids get in trouble."

A resident commented that the most dangerous time is just before the ice is safe. "The ice patrol," Sgt. Petrone answered, "is on duty when the white flag is up, but we would anticipate a little the day before — and the same when the thaw comes."

The group discussed safety features for the area directly beneath the Washington Road Bridge, always the slowest to freeze. A crude passage way was suggested. "I would just as soon have a chain there. The ice patrol will know when it is safe to go under the bridge. The warning flags and signs would be pulled out."

Most of the residents have known the pleasure of skating the three-mile length of the lake, and weekend "tours" were proposed. "If we have 10 inches of ice, as we have had many winters past, there's no reason why we couldn't plan some excursions," Sgt. Petrone replied.

"I think we might keep in mind," Peter Cook added, "that people skate for pleasure and that we try to be flexible so that we open areas of the lake as they become safe."

"Another thing is that it is one of the most important functions of this crew to amplify the work that has been started in keeping people educated and informed on what goes on down there."

Skaters Wanted. The patrol will need six to 10 people on duty at each location. During the week, duty hours would be from 3 to 5 p.m. "when the kids flock to the lake," Sgt.

Primaries in June

The first Tuesday in June has been set as the date for New Jersey's primary elections. This year, they will be held on the 6th.

Approved by the Senate, 20 to 2, and waiting Gov. Hughes' signature, the bill marks the third time in as many years that the date for primary day has been changed. Last year, it was held in September; in June; and the year before that, in April.

Primary elections were first held in New Jersey in 1911, with voting taking place on the fourth Tuesday in September until 1930. Thereafter, dates have ranged from April to May and September, with Gov. Hughes now advocating establishment of the June date as permanent.

Petrone said, Saturdays and Sundays, the lake would be patrolled full time. There was also mention of night skating.

"We'll need more people," Petrone said. The hoped for schedule is two hours duty per week for each member during the three or four weeks of the winter when the lake is frozen. Parents of school children, high school students and members of the Scouting organizations are urged to attend next Monday's meeting.

Present at the first session were H. W. Hoisington Jr., Miss Mariette J. Asselbergs, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Oates, Mrs. Romeo Favreau, Miss Jeanne Favreau, Mr. and Mrs. John Gillis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Talbot, Raymond J. Rodweller, Mr. and Mrs. Shelden Hackney and Mrs. Edward Bauer.

Also, Terry Penner, Mr. and Mrs. Burrows Sloan Jr., Mrs. William E. Brown, Edmund D. Cook, Raymond Wadsworth, Robert O. Smyth, Edward Rickett, Russell Thayer, Homer R. Zink, Miss Sarah Kuhn, Arthur Fontijn and Bernt Midland.

WHITHER ROCKY HILL?

Discussions Continue. "We are working with the Rocky Hill school board in a friendly way and we are optimistic about a solution," Princeton Regional Board president Dr. Harvey Rothberg reported this week, following a meeting on Sunday between Princeton and Rocky Hill school boards.

"The question will be amicably resolved, but no final decisions have been made," Dr. Rothberg added. He said he hoped for a decision by March 1.

Charles Peterson, president of the Rocky Hill Board, added an adjective to Dr. Rothberg's comment. "I think 'guarded optimism' is a more accurate phrase," Mr. Peterson said. "We're not out of the woods by a long shot."

Rocky Hill has been sending its children to Princeton schools for more than 50 years. The current arrangement for elementary school youngsters goes back to a 1962 agreement with the Borough Board of Education. The legal contract for Rocky Hill as a sending district to Princeton High School expires in 1968.

In August, the Princeton Board told Rocky Hill it was going to re-consider the elementary school arrangement. There are 138 Rocky Hill youngsters in the elementary system and although Dr. John McKenna, acting superintendent, provided for them in his proposed pupil-allocation plan, he stated that "the inclusion of Rocky Hill removes much of the elasticity to absorb increases in (our) population." Specifically, it's a question of keeping class size down to the 25-pupil limit the Princeton Board likes to maintain.

In December, Princeton asked Rocky Hill to start phasing out of the high school next September along with Montgomery, and to begin looking immediately for another place to send elementary school children.

After the August meeting, Rocky Hill turned to Mont-

What's New for the... home?

CARPETING! IN THE BASEMENT.

Looking for extra living space? Look into the basement.

Basement areas can often be converted into family room or other uses, with a minimum of remodeling. Paneling quickly transforms walls and ceilings. For floors, the solution could be: Carpet them!

Modern developments make carpeting both a speedy and practical answer for basement floor covering needs. New indoor/outdoor carpeting resists moisture, mildew, stains, and won't shrink or fade.

This type of carpeting is highly wear resistant and is easy to clean. It can even be installed on porch or patio, or at poolside as well.

For basement floors, the carpet can be laid directly over concrete. However, a latex foam rubber underlay will provide additional cushioning and insulation.

The carpeting used for basements is closely tufted and often has a dense, low pile. Thus, the latex foam underlay may be needed if deep-cushioned comfort underfoot is desired. Or, some carpets are available with a high-density latex foam backings.

No special treatment is necessary before putting down basement carpeting. Major holes must be patched, but minor blemishes can simply be covered and hidden.

Carpeting is practical for kitchens, laundry rooms and bathrooms — indeed, for every room in your home!

gomery Township, at Princeton's suggestion. Montgomery is willing to take Rocky Hill's lower grades. Mr. Peterson says, but grades four and above would be pushed above 25 pupils per class by the presence of Rocky Hill. Besides, Montgomery faces a crucial bond-issue vote on February 14 on purchase of land for its high school and has asked Rocky Hill to hold off for a while on serious discussions about permanent relationship.

Mr. Peterson points out that Rocky Hill, six-tenths of a square mile in area, cannot add many more children to the Princeton schools. He estimates 17 new Rocky Hill kindergarteners in '67 and suggests an average of 14 over the next few years. He says there is room in Rocky Hill for only 25 more houses.

In the works at the moment, is a joint statement of intentions which wouldn't be binding on either the Princeton or Rocky Hill boards. As Mr. Peterson points out, there is no guarantee that either board will accept the statement even after it's been worked out, and he says that long-term problems may still remain to be solved.

"Things have improved to the extent that we're talking now with the Princeton Board," Mr. Peterson says.

"Neither Rocky Hill nor Princeton would gain by an over-crowded school system," Dr. Rothberg says.

ALIGNMENT APPROVED

For portion of Route 92. The Montgomery Township Planning Board this week gave approval to the most southerly alignment of the Route 92 bypass — the traffic artery long proposed as a link between Route 206 north of Princeton and Route 33 east of Hightstown.

Princeton and Route 33 east belief that it would interfere with growth of the township.

The alignment now acceptable to Montgomery would follow the Mercer-Somerset county line to the intersection of Route 206 and Princeton Avenue. It would then proceed north to Interstate 95, scheduled to bisect the southern part of Somerset in the next year or two. Approval of this alignment was based on

The Montgomery Planning Board has deferred action on the proposed 50-lot development of the Bedens Brook Co. William Augustine, one of the developers, has presented plans for the project, which calls for homes in the $75,000 class.

The developers expect to follow a colonial design for the homes and to retain the rural nature of the area by eliminating sidewalks from their plans. Purchasers would not be restricted to membership in the Bedens Brook Club, the newly-built golf course.

"With two children and a part-time job, I'm busy all the time, and I just can't give my hair much attention. Is there any way I can look well-groomed without spending much time?" This is a common complaint with many of today's women.

My suggestion would be to either make a once-a-week trip to the hairdresser part of your routine, or to depend on an excellent haircut and body wave, if needed, so that your hair requires little or no setting.

MUSTANG IS STOLEN

Again! Someone is playing games with Ronald E. Schleppy, 142 1903 Hall, Princeton University campus.

His 1966 Mustang convertible was taken from Lot 16 off Faculty Road the weekend of January 20-21 and recovered later on Mercer Road with a burned out slatler. Some three days later, it was stolen again. This time it was recovered by campus police on Lot 3 off Prospect Avenue.

A neighbor of Mr. Schleppy, Wilfred L. Painter of 131 1903 Hall, was also experiencing trouble with his car in Lot 16. He reported the theft of two tires valued at $50 each and two special magna steel wheels, valued at $80 each (total $200) from his parked car. James Koplin of the Princeton University Police notified the Borough police of the theft on Friday.

Bike Stolen. Edward Bartholomew of the Princeton Inn reported the theft of his bicycle last week from the Inn's parking lot. He told police he had locked his $35 bicycle to a post with a chain when he went to get it last Wednesday afternoon, he said, the bike and chain were missing.

Louis Rossi, 285 Snowden Lane, reported the theft of a $5 front door mat. It was taken Thursday.

PAIR STEAL CHECKBOOK

Pass $1,400 in Checks. Two Trenton youths were arrested last week by Trooper Robert McMahon of the Princeton Barracks, after they had stolen a check book and passed bogus checks totaling $1,400 in Princeton, Borongh, West Windsor Township and Hamilton Township.

Arrested were Peter C. De Flesco, 23, and Richard D. Stettner, also 23. Each was charged with breaking into and entering the Millstone Apartments, behind the Holiday Inn on Route 1, and with larceny. Both are free on $2,000 bail on the charge of breaking and entering.

Check charges are pending, said Trooper McMahon. Presently each is free in $3,000 bail in Hamilton Township where the two have been charged with passing a number of forged checks.

TRENTON MAN ARRESTED

For Numbers Possession, Ralph Gachetti, 45, of Trenton, was arrested last Wednesday afternoon in his car on Route 1 by State Trooper Robert McMahon, who charged him with possession of lottery slips (numbers) and acting as a messenger.

Gachetti was released on $5,000 bail in West Windsor Township, pending a hearing Tuesday in Dutch Neck. Trooper McMahon reported that his arrest was the result of an investigation initiated and conducted by members of the Princeton Township police department.

At the time of his arrest, Gachetti was in possession of $1275 and a large number of lottery slips, Trooper McMahon said.

2,600 MORE LISTINGS

In Princeton Phone Book, Delivery of more than 28,000 copies of the 1967 Princeton telephone directory begins next Friday, February 10 — 2,000 more copies than last year and containing about 2,600 new listings. Alphabetical listings total 36,100.

The old and the new are combined on the front cover in a picture of a Touch-Tone wall telephone in a colonial kitchen setting. The three dimension of Bell System service—research and development at Bell Telephone Laboratories, manufacture and supply at Western Electric Company and operations at New Jersey Bell—are depicted on the back cover.

The yellow pages include zip code information together with a postal zip code map for multi-zone post office areas. Directories covering other New Jersey areas may be obtained without charge by calling local telephone company business offices.

CRASH INJURES FOUR

Icy Conditions Blamed. Icy road conditions, a result of Sunday evening's light snowfall, triggered a two-car collision at the intersection of Leavitt Lane and Fisher Avenue. Four persons were injured in the accident which extensively damaged the front end of one car and left the other a total loss.

Mrs. Henry F. Succop, 47, 50 Grover Avenue, one of the drivers, was treated for lacerations of the chin and abrasions at Princeton Hospital and released. A passenger in her car, Deborah Pehta, 9, 74 Grover, received a slight concussion, a bruise over her left eye and contusions. She was released following hospital treatment. Linda Succop, 16, escaped injury.

The second driver, Mrs. George E. Lewis, 56, 41 Fisher Avenue, complained of chest and shoulder pains. X-rays were negative and she was released from the hospital.

Her daughter, Anna, 10, sustained abrasions of the forehead and chest contusions. All of the victims were taken to Princeton Hospital by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

According to the Borough Police, the Succop car was traveling on Fisher Avenue, approaching the "T" intersection it forms with Leavitt Lane. The intersection is uncontrolled. Both drivers report skidding after applying their brakes.

Officer Allen R. Benkert, the investigating officer, made no charges. He described the Lewis car as a total loss.

TWO PAY $12 FINES

For Stop Sign Violations. Miss Fumi Samejima, 36, 46 Linden Lane, and Jay F. Seyfarth, 19, 84 Main Street, Kingston, were each fined $12 Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. for failing to observe a stop sign.

Fined $15 each were Miss Ann L. Winters, 19, 89 Poe Road, failure to yield right of way, and Mrs. Florence Goldsmith, 60, 280 Nassau Street, improper passing in an intersection. Both pleaded not guilty.

William Toto, 26, 72 Witherspoon Street, paid $19 for speeding, while a careless driving charge cost Roger N. Rule, 18, 9 Princeton Place, Princeton Junction, $10.

AMBASSADOR TO SPEAK

At Lions Club, Patrick Shaw, the Australian Ambassador to the United Nations, will speak on "Australia and the United Nations" at the Princeton Lions Club's annual U.N. Evening next Wednesday, February 7, at 8:30.

Mr. Shaw has headed the Australian mission to the U.N. since June of 1965. He has also served as Deputy Secretary for the Australian Department of External Affairs and as an official at Australian Legations in several parts of the world.

The public is invited to the speech. The Lions Club has also invited several service groups, including the Rotary, Kiwanis, Soroptimist and Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

YWCA ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. Kerr Is President. Mrs. James A. Kerr was re-elected president of the Princeton YWCA at its 46th annual dinner meeting. Mrs. Kerr, who begins her second term, has been a member of the Y board of directors since 1956.

A Princeton native, she has been active on the Y building and planning commission and is currently vice-chairman of the special gifts committee of the fund campaign. She has also served as secretary of the Community Chest, member-at-large of the Council of Community Services and as member of the League of Women Voters.

Other officers elected include Mrs. John R. Golden, Mrs. E. Harris Harbison, Mrs. Harold G. Logan and Mrs. James C. McKeever, vice-presidents; Mrs. Wynford L. Harries, secretary, and Mrs. Leewood W. Rowles, treasurer.

Members elected to the board of trustees are Mesdames James E. Andrews, Sherman Bates, William Beasley, William W. Bothwell, John R. Lasley, James McHenry, Harold Sim Jr. and MacLeod White.

SEE PLANNING BOARD

Shopping Builders Told. The Colonial Village Manor Corporation, which has plans to build a $20 million shopping center on 500 acres off Route 69 in Hopewell Township, is no nearer to breaking that first shovelful of ground than it was before.

At January's meeting of Township Committee, Mrs. Eleanor Suydam of Pennington, head of the corporation, appeared to ask for a permit to construct an $80,000 sewage plant which would be used by the proposed center. She and her attorney, Sydney Jacobs, were told to present their proposal to the Township Planning Board which will meet February 10.

The sewage plant is an essential first step. Tentative approval for it has reportedly been given by the Boards of Health of both the Township and the State. The plant would be located about 1,500 feet north of Titus Mill Road.

Several residents of the area were present and requested that if a special meeting of the Planning Board be held they be notified. They were concerned over how the location of the proposed sewerage plant would affect them.

A special meeting of the Planning Board before its regularly scheduled meeting in February had been requested by Mrs. Suydam. She was told that decision was up to the board. (It declined to grant her request.)

Mrs. Suydam is eager to avoid delay because the Township is in the process of adopting a new master plan which calls for the area of the shopping center to be rezoned for light industrial use instead of the present commercial use. Right now, all the corporation needs to go ahead is a building permit; (provided detailed plans are submitted to committee for approval) if the proposed master plan were adopted, however, the shopping center would become a non-conforming use.

At its meeting, the Planning Board will consider the possibility of changing the area of the shopping center on the proposed master plan from industrial to allow a center. Mrs. Suydam told Committee that she believes the presence of Colonial Village Manor would bring about a half million dollars in taxes to Hopewell Township.

SPANISH GROUP TO MEET

For Concert. The Circulo Espanol will meet on Saturday, February 18, at 8:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Watson, 158 Terhune Road. The program will feature a concert by singer and composer Clyde Tipton and pianist Thomas Uehmann.

Mr. Tipton, who teaches at Lawrenceville School, holds a master of music degree from Westminster Choir College. He has given many recitals in various places along the East Coast. A Trenton resident, Mr. Uehmann is currently a student at the Juilliard School of Music in New York.

THE RELEVANCE OF PHYSICS

STANLEY L. JAKI

The Relevance of Physics

by Stanley L. Jaki

Physics — that most exact of sciences — is too often regarded as a paragon of objectivity and an unmatched source of definitive truths with fundamental relevance to all areas of human inquiry.

In a scrupulously documented analysis of various aspects of the history of the science, Jaki shows that, although physicists throughout the ages have been heralds of truth, they have also been prone to half-truths and many of the plain errors of their contemporaries. He believes that physicists of our times may better equip themselves for their increasingly prominent role in shaping our culture.

The author is a Roman Catholic priest and a Benedictine, with doctorates in both physics and theology. A Research Professor of the History and Philosophy of Physics at Seton Hall University, he is currently a visiting member of Princeton's Institute for Advanced Study.

GUIDE PUBLISHED HERE

About Graduate Study. By 1970, the number of graduate students in the U.S. is expected to reach 800,000.

Until now, there has been no standard form available to graduate facilities to announce and publicize their programs to prospective students. That gap has been filled with the publication this fall of Peterson's Guides to Graduate Study, compiled by Peterson's Guides, Inc., 20 Nassau Street.

The Guides—six linen-bound volumes containing the most sought after information about the nation's leading graduate schools—is the work of two men.

Residents on the board of directors. They include Samuel W. Lambert III, a partner of Smith and Lambert; Fred R. Peterson and H. Barton Thomas, both of whom are associated with Laidlaw and Company; and John Campagna, Roger Green and Franklin A. Randolph, all associated with New York firms.

TO MARK ANNIVERSARY

Of Women's Club. The Business and Professional Women's Club of Princeton will celebrate its 45th anniversary Monday, February 13, at the Nassau Inn. Hospitality hour will begin at 6 and dinner will be served at 6:45.

Members of the Trenton Club and the newly-formed Hightstown Club have been invited to attend. Reservations may be made by Friday morning, February 10, with Louise Maas, 924-5633.

IRS INSTRUCTED
On How To Write. Taxpayers who receive letters from the Internal Revenue Service which are more polite and more informative than those they are accustomed to can thank Scribe International, a Princeton based firm of writers, which has been teaching tax specialists at IRS how to make their letters more effective.

Scribe frowns on legal language and tax jargon and has encouraged IRS employees to write as simple and clear as possible. Circumlocutions and irrelevant introductions are discouraged in favor of precise, to-the-point writing.

The IRS program is being conducted by Kermit Rolland, president of Scribe International. Mr. Rolland worked as a newspaper and magazine writer before forming his own firm 12 years ago.

News Of The CHURCHES

KNOW YOUR PASTOR
Meet Mr. Mechem. The ways of ecumenism are manifold, and the problems, both large and small, sometimes have offshoots of wry humor.

This winter, as Princeton pastors worked out a mutually agreeable service for the Week of Prayers for Christian Unity and the Princeton Christian Unity Committee completes arrangements for the Epiphany Study, the Rev. James L. Mechem, new minister at Kingston Presbyterian Church, recalled another large-scale ecumenical effort.

According to Mr. Mechem, more than 700 persons took part in "An Ecumenical Community Prayer for Christian Unity" held last May while he was associate pastor of historic Neshaminy-Warwick Presbyterian Church in lower Bucks County, Pa. The 7 p.m. vespers service was held in a Roman Catholic church and drew a mixed bag of participants: Roman Catholics, Presbyterians, Lutherans, Episcopalians, United Church of Christ and members of a Byzantine order of the Roman Catholic Church.

"We had a great evening. It was remarkable that we were all together in the same room offering worship," he says. "One of the interesting things was the prayer — actually a litany, said in turn by the Protestant and Roman Catholic ministers.

"Then we all prayed the Lord's Prayer — as we know it in our own churches. The Roman Catholics finished early. The Lutherans and Episcopalians 'trespassed' while the Presbyterians 'debeited.'"

The service included the out of the Rev. Dr. Richard Gilbert's office for the Presbyterians, "Keep in circulation the rumor that God is alive!"

Congregation Scattered. His new responsibility at Kingston Presbyterian Church covers several hundred families, widely scattered throughout the surrounding area. "In Princeton, everyone is within 20 minutes walking distance of the church. Here, if something is going on at the church, they have to get transportation."

He is concerned about the teenagers, adult study classes and "oh, there are a lot of possibilities. I would like to see us have a class in decision making. It would be extremely interesting to me to have a layman and myself teach a class in which we try to work out how does a Christian relate himself to the world that is more and more technical. I think this would be very helpful."

"A pastor's purpose, after all, is to encourage people of the congregation to carry out their own ministry."

PLAN TWO SERVICES

For World Day Of Prayer. Princeton community observance of the World Day of Prayer on Friday, February 10, will be at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel, Van Dyke Road. The United Church Women of Princeton is sponsor.

Knowing People. The Rev. Mr. Mechem brings a widely assorted knowledge of people to his work as a minister. Born and raised in Sterling, Colo., where his father was a homesteader, he attended the Presbyterians' Monmouth College in Illinois and Princeton Seminary. He holds a master's degree from Lutheran Seminary in Philadelphia. A Republican, he won a seat on the Alburts, Pa., Borough Council on the strength of Democrats' write-in votes. He was pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church in Alburts at the time and recalls with pride, "we passed the town's first zoning ordinance."

While a student at Princeton Seminary ("it took me four years because I had to work"), he was a student pastor, night clerk at the Peacock Inn for a year ("They all went to bed early except on football weekends, when things livened up"), a waiter at Hy's Delicatessen ("where I acquired a marvelous appetite for corned beef sandwiches!"), and an advertising salesman for the Shopping Center News.

During his junior year at college he married his pretty wife, Carna, a girl of a Swedish Lutheran descent. They have two children, Leslie Carol, 11, and Sari Lynn, 7. A camping family, they took a tent and a camp stove to Cape Cod last summer.

He was pastor in Alburts for six years and associate pastor of Neshaminy-Warwick for five years before coming to Kingston in June of this year. At Neshaminy, he teamed up with the curate of the nearby Roman Catholic church to assist "the teenage kids who were getting in trouble and ending up in Doylestown prison." Out of this friendship grew an interdenominational study group that discussed the sacraments together.

A Play "Nut." "I must admit I am something of a play 'nut,' too," Mr. Mechem adds. Three-and-a-half years ago he became a key member of an amateur group that toured "No Man Is An Island" every Sunday night of the year. "We did it anywhere we got invited . . . Wilmington, Pittsburgh, Pennington, Lambertville, St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia, anywhere!"

The cast included a missionary now in Iran, three Presbyterian ministers from Philadelphia, including a Negro, a number of laymen. I think we did a lot of good that year."

He also served as a director of a Philadelphia Council of Churches' broadcasting board last year, sponsoring a half-hour show, "Beat Scene," at 11 a.m. on Sunday mornings. "Kids came in to dance, we invited the combos through the churches. Some of them were very good . . . It was all a part of the theme that comes ler, The Rev. Mr. Chandler, also a lecturer in the polities department at Princeton, is a graduate of Stetson University with advanced degrees from Rutgers, Union and Princeton Seminary.

News Of The Churches

is chairman of the general mission committee.

Rogers Carrington, executive director of Youth Associates Inc. of 20 Nassau Street, will speak on local youth problems at 7:30 p.m. at the opening session. The CBS-TV documentary, "Sixteen in Webster Groves," will be shown.

The chancel drama, "Three Flights Down," will be presented by members of the senior high fellowship of the Integrated Miller West Presbyterian Church, Newark, at 7:30 on Saturday, February 18. On Saturday, March 4, a New York subway policeman, Captain Paul Dilema, who is a volunteer member of "Teen Challenge," will bring with him a film concerning teen problems as well as some of his converts who will tell of their experiences.

The meetings are open to all interested individuals. A free-will offering will be taken at each program and donated to the guest speakers of the evening.

LENT TO BEGIN

Ash Wednesday Next Week. Next Wednesday is Ash Wednesday and the beginning of a 40-day period of Christian Fasting and penitence. Lent ends on Easter, which this years occurs on March 26.

The practice of self denial has been a part of Lent for many years. But more recently there has been a stress upon acts of devotion such as attending services, receiving Communion, reading and meditating on spiritual works and the giving of time, money and labor to spiritual endeavors.

The Mid-week Lenten services at the Lutheran Church of the Messiah will begin with an 8 p.m. service on Ash Wednesday. Based on the theme "Man and His Communities," the Wednesday evening services will use a format of worship with sermon, film, open discussion and drama. Beginning with the topic, "Man and Himself," the series will advance in ensuing weeks to town, home, job and school.

The preachers taking part will be Ralph Quere, Leland Mebust and Pastors Harold Remus and Luther Krieffall. SCHOLAR TO LECTURE At Princeton Seminary, Professor Roland H. Bainton of Yale University Divinity School and author of the Martin Luther biography, "Here I Stand," will deliver the first of five lectures on Monday at Princeton Theological Seminary. His topic is "Erasmus and the Strategy of Mediation."

The addresses, which form the L. P. Stone Lectureship for 1967, will compare Lutheran and Roman Catholic attempts to mediate religious disputes. The lectures are open to the public without charge.

It updates the 1935 edition, which in turn traces back to John Wesley's "Collection of Psalms and Hymns," published in 1737 at Charleston, S.C., as one of the first hymnals in the English language prepared for use in public worship.

The new version attempts to do three things: 1) to draw upon the rich heritage of ecumenical hymnody, including the Wesleyan traditions; 2) to achieve diversity to allow for a variety of religious experiences meeting present-day needs; and 3) to reach into future religious needs.

"From Greenland's icy Mountains," for instance, is omitted. The hymn's text refers to Christianizing of "heathen" lands from "error's chain." The implied spiritual superiority of the western world is not appreciated by present-day Christians, the Hymnal Committee decided.

Special Series. The Rev. Dr. Leon W. Gibson, of Princeton Methodist, will hold Lenten Bible study classes from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. on five consecutive Sunday evenings beginning February 12. The Epistles James and 1 Peter will be studied.

Interdenominational Bible study groups will meet in Hopewell on Wednesday and Sunday evenings during Lent. The Wednesday group will meet in the various churches and will study the Gospel of St. Luke. The Sunday evening units will meet in a community home.

Dean to Preach. The Rev. Colin F. Miller, dean of the Hamilton College Chapel, will give the Ash Wednesday sera Tocks Island Reservoir and the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area.

The Men's Breakfast Club is non-sectarian, under the sponsorship of Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church. Reservations at $2 may be made through Ray Arrowsmith (896-0178) or President Mel Rutledge (896-0742).

YOUTH RETREATS SET

By Area Churches. Twenty young people from Griggstown Reformed Church will hold a retreat during the weekend of February 24 at the denomination's Warwick (N. Y.) Conference Center. The leader will be William Petz, a first year student at Princeton Theological Seminary who is serving as assistant to the pastor, the Rev. Robert A. Jones. James Arnesen, president of the youth fellowship, is retreat chairman. Miss Ann Molto, secretary, is in charge of arrangements.

SPORTS in Princeton

DAVE STAIR HONORED

In Judo Tourney. Although participants slightly outnumbered spectators, roughly 60 to 50, the first judo tournament held at Princeton High School was a success. So says, Chuck McHugh, captain of the FHS judo club.

The outstanding performer from Princeton High School was senior Dave Stair, who won all three of his matches with very clean falls. "They were perfect throws" said McHugh. His opponents had no choice but to go. Stair competed in the 165 pound or under class.

Stair, a fifth class white belt, was presented with a special award as the best performer among the PHS contingent. One of his victims was a second-class brown belt wearer, a considerable achievement for Stair, according to McHugh. McHugh added he was doubly proud of Stair's success because he had been Stair's teacher.

McHugh, a brown belt wearer himself, was, unexpectedly, unable to compete. He was forced to referee the tourney when the original referee, Tomojo Kidachi, instructor of the Troy, N.Y., dojo (judo club) was unable to appear. Kidachi is a fifth class black belt of which there are "probably less than 20 in the United States," according to McHugh.

Hook and Johnson Cited. Two Little Tigers singled out by McHugh were Bruce Hook, a junior, and senior Bruce Johnson. Both competed in the 180 or under division.

Hook, competing in his first judo bouts, won one match. "Considering it was his first meet, we didn't know how he'd do," said McHugh, "but he did very well."

Two other awards were presented. Steven Zeldow a heavyweight from the Troy team which came down with a bus load of followers and entered a whole team, was named the overall tournament competitor. Herbert "Danny" Golem, a member of a Queens, L.I. dojo, won the championship in two classes: the 135 pound and under the 150 pound and under.

Generally, in high school competition a judo match lasts three minutes, said McHugh. A match ends whenever a performer is thrown in such a manner that both of his shoulders land flat on the mat with force. This is an "Ippon."

A throw in which the victim lands only partially on his back is a "Wazari." That is worth half a point. In addition, an ippon or wazari may be

NEW SPORT IN TOWN: Wearing the traditional heavy "Judogi" uniform of the judo performer, Bruce Johnson throws George Bates in a modified body drop. Both boys are members of the newly-formed Princeton High School judo club. Over the weekend, PHS was host to a judo tournament for boys of high school and junior high school age. scored by holding an opponent's shoulders to the mat for a certain period of time, much as in high school wrestling.

McHugh and his fellow judokas are hopeful that in the future judo will be recognized as an official sport at the high school. In the works is another judo match at PHS. If it materializes it will be held in May.

PHS FIVE RALLIES

To Spoil Lawrence Bid. At the three-quarter mark, home team Lawrence High School held a 54-48 margin Tuesday evening over Princeton High School in basketball. What made this more exciting than usual was that the Cardinals had won only one game in their previous 13.

However, Lawrence's hopes were short-lived. Led by 6-5 center, Tom Wood, the Little Tigers came back in the final period to outrace Lawrence, 24-12. That made it a 72-66 final, Princeton.

With Wood hitting from the outside the Blue and White caught the Cardinals at 54-all with 6:42 to play. Wood finished with 22 points and was aided most by teammate Rich Volz, who collected 18. The win was Princeton's sixth — its second over Lawrence — against 11 defeats.

Three hit double figures for the Cardinals who are playing their first varsity season under coach Ron Thom. Rubin Joyner contributed a game high 23, while Laszlo Adam had 13 and Jerome Hicks 12.

PEE-WEES WIN 1, LOSE 2
On New England Trip. Princeton's Pee-Wee Hockey Team won the middle game on its three-day New England trip last weekend, defeating Concord, N.H., 5 to 1, but losing to Belmont Hill and Andover in Massachusetts.

The trip opened with an 11-3 defeat by Belmont Hill on Harvard's rink, defense proving the difference as the victors demonstrated greater experience. Pete Moore, Pete Browne and Jay Bernard scored for Princeton.

At Concord, it was a different story. Roy Hufstetter banged in a pair for the victors, with solo goals going to Browne, Randy Koch and Bob Jackson.

On Sunday at Andover, the Pee-Wees played their third game in as many days and lost, 2-1, in sudden-death overtime. John Mittnacht got the losers' only goal.

Games with pee-wee teams from Lawrenceville and the newly-formed Nassau organization will be played later this month. They will be staged on the new Princeton Day School rink.

GALLUP STREAK ENDED

By ETS. A game ETS squad overpowered previously undefeated Gallup Poll, 42-28, in last week's YMCA Research and Industrial League Basketball action.

Clarence Gilbert dropped in 15 points for the victors. Gallup was forced to play without two of its regulars. John Smithson led the losing effort with 12 points.

Princeton Hospital moved up in the rankings as it defeated American Cyanamid, 48-43. Roger Madden and Al Farmer were high scorers with 14 and 13 points respectively.

Bob Gehrey led RGA to a 55-27 rout of Van Nostrand, scoring 18 points. Joe Price was high scorer for the losers with 10.

Next Tuesday, Gallup Poll will play American Cyanamid; Hospital will challenge RCA, Concord, N.H., 5 to 1, but losing to Belmont Hill and Andover in Massachusetts.

TENDERLY, LOVINGLY CARED FOR RANCH HOUSE

Almost never have we seen a house that has been lived in for five years in the brand new condition of this one! From floor to ceiling the house literally shines. Added attraction: since the decor is tasteful and unobtrusive, there should be no need for a new owner to spend a penny on redecorating. Statistics: entrance hall; comfortable living room with fireplace; dining room; paneled sunporch; excellent kitchen with space for eating, wall oven, disposal, counter top stove, etc.; three bedrooms; two tiled baths; basement dry, clean and large enough for any use. All the rooms are sunny and bright, and each bedroom has a two way exposure overlooking the manicured grounds.

The lot, which is fenced on three sides, is beautifully planted with specimen shrubs and a delightful assortment of handsome trees, all in prime condition to match the house. There is plenty of space for enlarging the house, should it become necessary for a growing family. Fairly priced, too, at $15,000.

BAL DE TETE PLANNED

By Ballet Society. The Princeton Ballet Society will give a Bal de Tete April 28 at the Nassau Inn for the benefit of the Princeton Regional Ballet Company.

Co-chairmen Mrs. John McLaughlin and Mrs. Nathaniel Burt have announced that the dinner-dance at the Inn will feature a fancy headdress contest and will have as its theme, Art Nouveau. Peter Dinchin and his orchestra will provide the music.

AH! LES FRANCAIS!

"Le Treteau" Coming. Moline, in modern dress, will be offered to French-speaking McCarter audiences by "Le Treteau de Paris" on Monday, February 20, at a 1 p.m. matinee.

The play will be the comic "Les Femmes Savantes," and Jean de Rigault, director of Le Treteau, has decided to present it in contemporary dress "to give today's audiences the equivalent of what Moliere showed the public of his time."

This is the ninth annual Treteau de Paris tour of campus cities under the sponsorship of the Association Francaise d'Action Artistique of the French government.

For the tour, M. de Rigault selects French actors, directors and designers from almost every theatre in Paris. The company was last in Princeton in April, 1965.

SPOONFUL OF LOVE

Folk Special Comin' The Lovin' Spoonfuls, one of the country's leading folk-rock groups, will descend on Dillon Gym on Saturday, March 4, at 8 p.m. to entertain a pre-Junior Prom audience. Anybody else can go, too.

The appearance is sponsored by McCarter as a "spring folk special" and tickets will go on sale at the McCarter box-office next Monday at 10 a.m. Reservations and mail-orders are now being taken, however.

Spoonful's hits include "Summer in the City" and "Daydream." Personnel consists of John Sebastian (guitar, harmonica, auto-harp), Zal Yanovsky (lead guitar), Steve Boone (electric bass) and Joe Butler (drums).

Last season, the group won two gold records from the recording industry. These are given for LP albums which gross over $1 million.

IT'S NEW
To Us

WHAT I NEED IS . . .
Find it at Auction. Those Smith auctions are scavenging again and the Smith Club auction this year promises to be rewarding indeed. It's going to be next Saturday, February 11, from 9:30 a.m. at Littlebrook School, and there are enticements enough to make you spend the whole day.

"Food After the Flood" by Dudley Morris is a genuine treasure for some lucky collector of the late artist's works. Collectors in a different genre will be enthusiastic about the wood carving from Peru, about two feet in its irregular shape, with a charming figure of a cherub at the base. What was it and where was it used? Only the inscrutable cherub knows.

An Oriental rug, 6 x 10 feet, is in excellent condition and worn only here and there, "interestingly." It might find a harmonious home with the white mantel removed from a house on Mereer Street, or the nine yards of brand new flowery fabric.

Perhaps the most amusing donation to the Smith auction is a toothpick holder from South America. Well, it's not exactly a toothpick holder; it's a holder for hors d'oeuvre really, but they have to be the kind you impale on a toothpick. There are about two dozen holes, pierced in a Baroque silver cupid. We especially like the wit of the silversmith who pierced one hole in the top of cupid's head.

THE FIT? FLAWLESS: Josef Borg, Princeton's custom-tailor for many years, has opened a new shop—"bringing Fifth Avenue to Palmer Square."

A pair of bouillon cups with their saucers, are Czech bone china with a charming decoration of flowers against the white, and rims of gold.

China collectors will also want the set of eight blue and white demi-tasses in that softly outlined violet blue they used at the end of the last century.

Practical bidders will compete for the wardrobe trunk, the power lawn mower that works, the hand lawn mower where you do the work, the tuxedo, the hair-dryer, the toaster, the Chesterfield coat and the small heater.

But why not try for the wicker wine-bottle holder or that brand new pair of water skis? You can always learn to water-ski or to pour wine. If you buy the pair of skis for your child—snow skis, these are—he can stay outside all the rest of the winter.

An early American child's potty seat turned up from somewhere, and so did a pair of east iron eagle snow-brakes. You put the brakes on your roof and they—brake the snow and keep it from falling on your head when you open the front door.

A cheerful set of breakfast dishes is beige with red-apple design, and a brand new Tole tray is soft green-apple with light and dark grey flower design. With this tray, you get white coasters and napkins, all new.

A week from Saturday—ready for that gavel?

YOUR SUIT, FOR YOU

From Josef Borg. The distance from the Island of Malta to Palmer Square is a long one to measure with a tailor's tape, but Josef Borg knows the distance to the last stitch.

Well-known in Princeton as a custom tailor since 1950, Josef Borg has just unlocked the door of a handsome new shop at 57 Palmer Square. "I've been dreaming of this for a long time . . ." he says.

Born on the island of Malta, Josef Borg decided to become a tailor when he was only 14 years old. He'd watched, with wide-eyed awe, a Hollywood movie full of sleekly dressed actors and he decided that he would make himself into the best custom-tailor in the world, perhaps with a shop in Beverly Hills.

He went to technical school in Malta, then came to this country to study with American designers so that he could return to Malta with new skills. But he realized that he could never really be happy again in Malta, and after a brief visit home, he returned to this country to stay.

In America, he spent three years at the New York Fashion Academy and two years in evening classes at the Fashion Institute of Technology.

FAULKNER ON VIEW
"Intruder in the Dust" Coming
The 1949 film based on William Faulkner's "Intruder in the Dust" will be shown next Tuesday at 8 as one of the Classic Film Series.

The story tells about a Mississippi Negro accused of murdering a white man. A young boy, a lawyer and an old lady hunt desperately for the real killer, as a lynch mob gathers outside the jail.

Claude Jarman Jr. plays the teen-age boy. Juanito Hernandez is also starred.

"ALADDIN" IS NEXT
In Children's Series. The Story-Time Dance Theatre will present "Aladdin" next Saturday, February 11, in the Princeton High School auditorium. Show time is 1:30 p.m.

The second play of the Children's Entertainment Series, "Aladdin" creates the mood and time of far-off Persia with brilliant costumes and imaginative sets. A narrator speaks as eight dancers act out the time-honored story of the boy with the magic lamp. This new production by the company has both original music and inventive choreography.

The Story-Time Dance Theatre is a professional group from New York that has presented children's play for the past six years along the Eastern seaboard. According to the play committee, the Children's Entertainment Series is proving a boon to mothers planning birthday parties. Two mothers took a joint party of 18 girls to "Just So Stories;"
another parent is treating her birthday boy and friends to "Aladdin."

Season tickets for the remaining shows, or single tickets at $1 for "Aladdin," may be purchased from Mrs. W.H.
von Oehsen, 193 Elm Road (212-2011), or at 1 p.m. at the door on the day of the performance.

ARE YOU OVER 12?
Dance Classes Scheduled. A series of ten master classes in modern dance will be given this spring by Myra Kinch under the auspices of the Princeton Ballet Society.
Classes will be held on Friday evenings starting February 10.

The classes are open to dancers over the age of 12 or to adults, whether or not they have had any dance experience.
Beginners will be accommodated at 6 p.m. and advanced or intermediate dancers at 7. All classes will be held at the Princeton Ballet Society studios, 262 Alexander.

Miss Kinch is now choreographing two works for the Princeton Regional Ballet performances in Trenton on April 1.
She has led the modern dance department at Ted Shawn's University of the Dance, Jacob's Pillow, Massachusetts, for the past 20 years.

In addition, she has choreographed

Faith in Chicago for the World Council of Churches.

She has been a soloist three times on television for the Audree Estey, director of the Princeton Ballet Society, believes that Miss Kinch's classes will be particularly valuable to young girls preparing for college.

"Modern dance has provided many girls with one of the most rewarding activities of their college careers," Mrs. Estey says.
"Ballet, of course, is basic, but as a girl approaches college age, she should give serious consideration to a choice between ballet and modern dance."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Hopewell Valley Association for Equal Opportunities sincerely thanks the many residents of Hopewell, Pennington, Hopewell Township, Skillman, and Titusville who gave food, clothing, and money to the Association for Equal Opportunities drive to help needy families in the area. Sixteen families were given a holiday basket of canned goods and a frozen turkey. Appreciation is expressed to all those who helped to make this possible.

Locale a Vital Factor.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have been following with some interest the recent debate on the proposed salary scale of Princeton teachers.

I believe that Mrs. Baumol (TOWN TOPICS, January 26) and many others have begun with a misconception in forming their point of view that the salary scale may not be sufficiently high. Mrs. Baumol argues that if the Princeton school system wishes to keep its pre-eminent place among the state's school system, it must have a salary scale which corresponds with its high rank, in order to attract and hold high quality teaching personnel.

Actually, quite the opposite situation usually obtains: both at the university and the public school levels, the salary is, as a rule, inversely proportional to the inherent desirability of the job. Thus, a physicist with a newly acquired Ph.D can expect on the order of $8,000 to $9,000 for 12 months from a "name" university, while small schools in way-out places like Arkansas and northern Florida will offer the same person anywhere from $12,000 to $16,000.

Similarly, the starting salary a couple of years ago in the Philadelphia school was $5600, while upper-income Philadelphia suburbs with top-quality schools, such as Elkins Park and Upper Merion were paying the new teacher only $4800. Despite this differential, it was much more difficult for a teacher to obtain a position in the latter areas than in the Philadelphia system. (I do not claim that any of the above figures is exact.)

The moral behind these numbers is simply that a good teacher would rather have interesting and intellectually challenging classes in an aware community than receive a higher salary in a not-so-desirable community. This assertion is demonstrated by the well-known fact that it is much harder to obtain a position in the Princeton schools than in many others with higher salary scales. Thus if Mrs. Baumol is correct that Princeton's salary scale last year was in the 75th percentile statewide, this rank is in spite (not because) of its high academic rating.

Since my wife is a public school teacher, I have no complaints about increasing salary scales for teachers. However, the increases should be based on a clear knowledge of the issues and facts, and not on misconceptions and community chauvinism.

Federal Funds Mean Control.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

In recent days, and particularly at the School Board Candidates Meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters, the matter of school district financing has been discussed quite freely.

At the meeting on Wednesday, one of the candidates strongly proposed that all and any new program in the Princeton Regional School System could be financed with Federal Government funds. The inference was made that the facts could always be stretched so that they would include one or more of the multiplicity of programs which are described in certain government publications.

I believe there is a fundamental fallacy involved in this kind of thinking. The thinking appears to be that there is a possibility of obtaining something, of value, without having to relinquish something in turn. My past experience, as a business man, indicates that any time an individual, company or local government chooses to accept special funds from the Federal Government they in turn must relinquish a degree of their own sovereignty as it applies to the making of decisions and establishing policy.

The Federal Government does not permit the applicant to take funds freely but insists that special accounting and reporting procedures and stringent government regulations be instituted. All of the additional requirements result in additional administrative and overhead costs in order to supply the additional "paper" which is required.

In addition to the foregoing, although Federal funds may be available for the first one or two years of the inception of a new program, it must be recognized that sooner or later the financial burden for the support of such programs, once started, must be borne by the local electorate. Therefore, it follows that prior to jumping into such programs the taxpayers must be aware and willing to accept not only the higher administrative costs

Hot-rod magazines, popular records, adult fiction and even some of those kid books you like to sneak a look at now and then, are part of the new browsing section for teens at the Princeton Public Library.

Off the center well, just after the magazine section, is a teen area containing about 50 books, plus magazines and records, of special interest to readers between the ages of 13 and 18.

Librarians will watch the books closely, and if they don't move "they'll be moved — out. This means a changing collection of constant interest to young readers.

Now that Princeton Borough and Princeton Township have taken the large stride forward of making a school merger a reality, it would seem a real pity to relinquish control of the projected program to the United States Superintendent of Education in the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In other words, are the citizens of Princeton willing to relinquish the control which they have sought to exercise over the destiny of their own merged school system?

Editorial Comment Debated.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

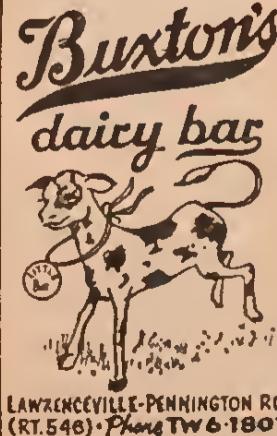

The editorial comment in the January 19 issue of TOWN TOPICS on the situation of the Rocky Hill school children cannot have been a fair presentation of the position of the Princeton Regional Board of Education. The description of the attitude of the Princeton school administration is unfortunate. One must wonder about the identity and authority of the "spokesman for the board" and the "officials" to whom the information was in part attributed.

The effect of the Rocky Hill students on the load in the Princeton School system is presented in a way which tends to threaten and confuse, rather than illuminate and explain. Thus, an increase of enrollment in the middle school of four percent is described as a "jump" from 1,009 to 1,050. How small must an increase be, to be insignificant?

Further, one is told that "Rocky Hill children 'bulge' class size straight across the system." One questions the propriety of "bulge" when the three percent portion represented by the Rocky Hill children, across the system, K-8, amounts on the average to less than one child per classroom.

Particularly unfortunate are the inferences to be drawn from the following two paragraphs. If the statement truly reflected the Princeton board's position, it would be a matter of the most profound concern to your readers.

would say, with respect to the high school students: "You have a formal, legal contract. But we ask you to be helpful, reasonable, and sensible."

Or the second paragraph asks: "For the sake of cooperation and good citizenship, suppress your own self-interest." While the first paragraph implies: "Don't ask us to suppress the smallest part of our self interest; our self-interest is enlightened and therefore privileged."

Finally, it is said that "There is nothing sudden," that discussions have been going on since July, with the implication that Rocky Hill should not be surprised by the position of the Princeton school administration, as described by TOWN TOPICS. The reader may conclude that just as soon as the new administration took office in the newly merged school system, it already had a position on the elimination of the Rocky Hill children — a matter of the smallest practical importance to the Princeton system when compared to the truly important problems it must handle at this time (even though it is a matter of the highest importance to us, residents of Rocky Hill, who need time to work out our special education problem).

TOWN TOPICS, without intent, has represented the conduct of the Princeton school administration as being arbitrary and capricious.

MUSIC In Princeton

FOUR FOR FLAMENCO

In Murray Theatre. Not only flamenco, but the Mexican huapango, the Cuban Guajira and a wide variety of other Hispanic music forms will be presented this weekend in Murray Theatre by a quartet of Princeton singers and guitarists.

The "Fiesta de Guitarras" will be given this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 in Murray Theatre on campus under the auspices of Theatre Intime.

Cynthia Gooding, folk-singer; Domingo Zullo, flamenco guitarist "de primer orden;" Frank Janney, classic guitarist and singer and Raquel, a singer of Cuban and Spanish origin who interprets the Cante Jondo are those who will be heard.

GLEE CLUB TO PERFORM

With Smith Group. The Princeton University Glee Club will give a concert of early music for mixed chorus with the Smith College Glee Club on Sunday, February 12, at 3 in Alexander Hall.

The program will feature the first Princeton performance of the mass by the 16th-century Netherlands composer, Josquin des Pres. The Princeton Club will sing the Roman chant on which the mass is based, and the Smith Club will sing a group of lively secular pieces from the Medieval period.

Walter Noller will conduct. Tickets, selling for $1.25, and $1.75 and $2.50, with a special $1 rate for students, may be purchased through the Glee Club, at the University Store or at the door on the night of the performance.

WATERS TO FLOW

In Folk Concert. Muddy Waters and his Blues Band will appear in a Rhythm and Blues Concert sponsored by the Princeton Folk Music Society at Alexander Hall on Friday, February 10, at 8:30.

"Muddy" is a well-known interpreter of the "down home" type of rhythm and blues considered by many to be a forerunner of much of today's rock and roll music.

A native of Mississippi, he began recording in 1940 after a few years as a truck driver. He is accompanied by his half-brother, Otis Spann, on piano and by the other members of the band on guitar, drums, tenor sax, bass and amplified harmonica.

This is the Waters band's first concert in the Princeton area. Tickets, at $3 and $2.50, are available at McCarter Theatre and the University Store.

SINGERS SOUGHT

By Choral Group. The YMCA's choral group will hold try-outs for singers next Tuesday and Tuesday February 14, at 7 p.m. at the Y. Male vocalists are especially needed.

The group's director, J. Beau Lackey, will be present at the auditions. The Y choral group was organized a year ago to give participants all opportunity to sing for community functions.

WHY TEACH JAZZ?

At New School? Teachers at the New School for Music Study will discuss "Why We Teach Jazz" at a parents meeting to be held at the school this Friday at 8 p.m. Participants will discuss the value of jazz in basic piano training and will show, by example, how jazz teaches young technique and rhythm.

David Kraehenhuehl, the school's musical director, will lead the discussion. Participants will be teachers Elmer Heereema, Sister Bernardine, Sister Irene, Noemi Tuschkak, Marjorie Upton, William Weiss and Arthur Wilson.

MORE UNIVERSITY COVERAGE: If Eugene Cameron were editor of TOWN TOPICS, he would devote more advance coverage to interesting speakers at the University. A University senior, he added that probably a lot of townspeople wouldn't feel the same way. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: If you were editor of TOWN TOPICS, what changes would you make?

Where asked: Around town

Mrs. McClure Howland, River Road, Belle Mead housewife: I don't like the format — the quarter fold. I prefer it either all open or all folded.

Otherwise, I get fouled up. As a matter of fact, I like TOWN TOPICS very much. As a newcomer to Princeton, I've found it very helpful.

Kross Dunn, 100 Stockton Street, student at Princeton Theological Seminary: I suppose I would classify the want ads. I may be too pragmatic and while I do enjoy browsing through them, I would, as a rule, just as soon have them classified.

Mrs. R. A. Braden, 34 Little Brook Road, housewife: I can't think of a thing, frankly. It's very satisfactory; the writing is fresh and informative. I feel it adequately reflects the community.

Eugene Cameron, 29 Pine Street, University senior: I feel Town Topics has a limited function and it fills that function very well. By that, I mean it's limited geographically and it is not trying to be a newspaper as such as much as it tries to be a community service. It usually does a pretty good job covering speakers at the University but I would like to see them highlighted a little bit more in the way of advance stories. I think they should let everyone know about it when the University gets hold of someone real interesting. Compared to some mid-western papers, Town Topics is really good. Out there, they're mostly concerned

Mrs. John A. Wheeler, 30 Maxwell Lane, housewife: I think I would have the classified ads a bit more classified, but that's the only improvement I can think of. I think it's a wonderful paper. I hope nothing ever happens to it.

Miss Evelyn Wicoff, 100 Adams Drive, employee of ETS: Overall, I think the paper is handled very well. But I feel, for instance, a better job could be done on feature stories and pictures. And there is another area that bothers me: I tend to read the movie reviews and I often get a bad steer from them. The area I enjoy reading most is the write-up on University sports. I think you do a good job on that.

George Conover, Pennington-Lawrenceville Road, supervisor, industrial relations: Offhand, I wouldn't change anything. I think it's a fine paper, I really do!

Mrs. Sandra Cord, Cranbury, housewife: I like it just the way it is. I think it has a lot of news and a lot of ads. Everybody reads it for the ads. I was just wondering: do you print all the letters to the editor you get? I enjoy reading them very much.

Mrs. Bertram Sparr, 243 Ewing Street, housewife: I would classify the ads. I like to look at the ads but if I want to buy a used car, I want to be able to look under "Used Cars for Sale." I think your stories are very complete; I especially like the way you cover school news. I also like your listing of coming events.

Bat an Eyelash

Tried on any eyelashes lately? Stop in at Marsh's, 30 Nassau, sometime soon and see how they look, just for size.

Marsh has a Revlon gadget which looks like a clear plastic longnette. One end is a handle, the other is eyelashes. Hold it up to your eye, curve aligned properly, and peer into the mirror to see how beguiling you can look with a hairier lid.

The Revlon lashes come in three—well, grades, sort of. One is an everyday eyelash to wear to the supermarket and the laundry and places like that. Grade two is a bit furrier and grade three is really thick and glamorous for a real bash on the town.

We asked the Marsh girl whether the eyelash market is bullish at the moment and she said lashes are selling "Wow!" Then we asked what age seems to be buying them. She sized us up briefly and answered, "About your age: 25 and up."

It's New To Us

Today, in Princeton, he designs and tailors men's clothes and uses his sharp designer's eye to combine fabric and color with regal success. He takes a dark bronze wool, for example, and makes a tuxedo jacket with black silk shawl collar, or uses a Burgundy plaid for another striking dinner jacket.

His award winning captain's jacket wears the rosette of the Custom Tailors and Designers of New York. He has adapted this jacket into a new double-breasted jacket with an overlap look; that is, the overlap is diagonal and is so slight that jacket could pass for either double or single-breasted. There are only two buttons on it and they have been set on a very slight diagonal, following the diagonal of the overlap, and matching the two buttons on each sleeve. It's a slimming and becoming cut for heavier men.

The lapels are wider, by the way: three inches. The pockets are slanting, narrowly piped, and there is no breast pocket. "I have eliminated them," Mr. Borg announces. "I like a trim look, with narrow shoulders, no breast pocket and trousers on the trim side."

This jacket might be done for you in a deep terracotta, or an interesting plaid. "Men's styles today are in a state of revolution," Mr. Borg declares. "Men are not afraid to be bold or individual today. Undergraduates used to come into my shop looking as though they wore hand-me-downs from their fathers. Today, they want to be venturesome in cut and color, and I'm all on their side."

Undergraduates, their fathers, alumni—Mr. Borg has quite a clientele, but he refuses to say who's on his list.

"I do not make publicity out of old friends," he says.

Borg tailored suits are available in three price-ranges: $125 is fitted in the shop, but made elsewhere; $250 is a bit more "custom" and $350-$400 is a complete custom made suit, done entirely on the premises. Fabrics enter into price.

WHO WEARS THE PANTS?

I Do! Nobody has taken a poll to find out what men think about pants suits for women, but the women seem to like the idea. Just ask Stacy's, in the Lawrence Shopping Center.

Here you may buy a pants suit fitted to mood, occasion or weather. One is suavely formal, in a creamy surah-like fabric with gold and pearl buttons holding the double-breasted closing.

At the opposite end of the mood is an impertinence with bright lime eggs on white, a popover so skimpy it leaves a nice tan midriff on view, and pants below the midriff. Pants are solid lime.

The safari jacket appears in another suit. Buttons are dark brown wood on those giant patch pockets the hunters like, and partially down the front of the classic shirt-jacket as well. The fabric is rough and natural.

The yellow, white and coral houndstooth checks of another suit will remind you of the nice little skirt suits you used to wear. The jacket is long, belted and double-breasted, like everything else this spring.

Did we say "used to?" Well, come women still wear skirts and Stacy provides for them a collection of spring pastel suits right out of the candy box. We loved the pale apricot with its slightly fitted jacket, a widely crossed double-breasted cut and A-line skirt.

Rain? Well, try Stacy's collection of quilted nylon raincoats, from $45, in cream, black, cafe and a wickedly spotted leopard. The quilting may be in squares, in Aztec-like blocks of irregular rectangles, or just dizzy lines.

Misty Harbor sends along its classic raincoats in those delectable pastels again. One is a clear pink, another is yellow, and still another is aqua—most appropriate for a rainy day. Ivory and a deep natural are in the group, too. This coat has the classic rounded collar, or a pleasing mandarin cut, stitched to give it a brave front against the rain.

You could wear any of them over your new pants suit.

The certificate signifies the Y's adherence to national YMCA standards, such as conducting a balanced and interesting physical education program with volunteer leadership, using the YMCA aquatics program, qualifying professional leadership to guide its program and operating in accordance with an effective written policy. The Princeton Y was also cited for striving to discover and meet its responsibilities.

NEW CROPDUSTER

Developed at University. A new type of cropduster developed by scientists at Princeton University may soon be giving a boost to holiday cranberry crops. Called Ag-GEM for Agricultural Ground Effect Machine, the saucer-shaped craft is believed to be the first machine designed specifically for spreading chemicals over full-grown crops.

Its developers hope that the craft, which floats over crops on its own air cushion, will combine the efficiency of hand spraying with the speed of airplane and helicopter spraying at a lower cost than either. The machine has great possibilities for New Jersey's cranberry industry, third largest in the nation, as well as other crop industries.

The machine was tested in the summer of 1965 and models are currently being constructed according to the design by Thomas E. Sweeney, a Princeton research aeronautical engineer. Plant pathologists from Rutgers University are also participating in the development of the machine.

The three-seat craft, which is 12 feet in diameter and weighs 700 pounds, is powered by two 45-horsepower engines. One engine provides the air cushion on which the vehicle travels, and the other moves it forward.

Although the experimental model cost $23,000 mass-produced versions would be considerably less expensive and would lower the cost below that of other methods. Tests show that Ag-GEM 1 does its job considerably faster than the other methods and more effectively than airplanes and helicopters. The developers hope to perfect the machine so that it will be effective as practical new methods for proving policy in staffing the emergency room. Other members of the committee were Drs. Cortelyou, Robert Bierman, James J. Chandler, W. Pepper Constable, Robert Proctor, Archibald Shearer and Erwin O. Hirsch. It was on a basis of their recommendations that the permanent panel system for emergency room coverage was developed.

FLYING SAUCER? No UFO, this space-machine was designed by Princeton University engineers for earthly purposes. It is probably the first ever designed for cropdusting fully-grown plants. Floating on its own air cushion, the Agricultural Ground Effects Machine sprays crops with greater speed and less expense than any of the traditional methods.

NEW POLICY PLANNED

For Hospital Emergency Room, Princeton Hospital is planning to place in effect a new system to handle emergencies more efficiently. Beginning this week, a panel of four experienced doctors will staff the emergency room around the clock.

The new operation will provide immediate care following accidents and sudden illnesses. The system was designed to meet the great increase in use of the emergency room.

Dr. Thomas P. Cortelyou, currently chairman of the hospital's department of general practice, will direct the panel. The other three doctors are now informing their patients of their intention to discontinue their private practices, and their names are being held until that is accomplished.

The four will treat all patients brought into the emergency room, as well as those who otherwise request care and do not ask for a personal physician. Patients using the emergency room will be charged two fees, one by the doctor and the other by the hospital.

Use of the emergency room has increased steadily in recent years as the population of the surrounding area has grown. Emergency visits to the Hospital last year totaled 10,314, while in 1965, the figure was 8,924.

"This new arrangement for emergency care should be a tremendous improvement in community medical service," George W. Conover, president of the Hospital's board of trustees, commented.

It was in October of last year that Dr. Richard L. Barach, president of the Medical and Dental Staff, appointed Dr. James B. Hastings chairman of an accident dispensary study committee to determine

13,695 TO COMPETE
For Wilson Fellowships. A record 13,695 students from more than 900 colleges and universities have been nominated for this year's Woodrow Wilson Fellowships, which support the graduate study of future college teachers.

Dr. Hans Rosenhaupt of Mount Lucas Road, national director of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, noted that the number represented one third of the nation's annual requirement for college teachers. Only one of every eight candidates will be awarded a fellowship.

Fifteen regional selection committees will interview the nominees this month and the winners will be announced in March. The Fellowship program has been supported for the past nine years by the Ford Foundation.

Dr. Rosenhaupt reported that the number of candidates has increased spectacularly since the beginning of the program. In 1958, there were only 5,656 nominees. The director attributed the rise to three factors: the growing interest in graduate study, the desire of college seniors to win highly competitive awards and the profession's interest in self-renewal.

Roger Martindell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Martindell, Elm Road, arrived at his room at the Choate School, Wallingford, Conn., last week, dripping wet from a shower, just as Choate headmaster Seymour St. John was showing around a prospective new boy and his father.

"Jack's room was right here," he said, indicating Martindell's West Wing Room 215, which John F. Kennedy had occupied while at Choate some 30 years ago. Embarrassed, Martindell apologized for the state of his room.

Surveying the disarray, the Rev. Mr. St. John commented, "I'll bet this room looked the same way 32 years ago." "I was about to say the same thing," commented the visiting father. The visitor, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, added, "Nice to meet you, Roger."

Gilbert Lea, of Portland, Me., formerly of Princeton, has been appointed to the history committee of the Bowdoin College Fathers Association. Mr. Lea's son, Thomas, is a freshman at Bowdoin.

Mary W. Brown, daughter of Mrs. George F. Brown, 287 Edgestone Road, has been chosen to participate in the 1967 summer program of the Experiment in International Living. Miss Brown will visit Italy. The Experiment is an educational exchange organization which supervises annually the exchange of 5,000 young people between the United States and nearly 100 other countries.

Four Princeton undergraduates have been honored for their performances on University soccer teams. Douglas D. Diltmars, 11 East Franklin Avenue, Pennington, a junior, was awarded a varsity letter. Sophomore John F. McCarthy, 169 Elm Road, was given a junior varsity letter, and George C. Mikszta, Skillman, and John A. Ritchie, Province Line Road, received freshman numerals.

Prof. Jacob Landau, 2 Pine Drive, Roosevelt, chairman of the department of graphic art at the Pratt Institute Art School, has begun a full-year sabbatical awarded under a $7,500 grant from the National Endowment for the Arts. An is thought to have considerable advantages over air-cushion and wheel systems currently being tested.

The system was conceived by Marcus P. Knowlton, lecturer in aerospace and mechanical sciences at the Princeton School of Engineering and Applied Science. Mr. Knowlton and several of his students are working with a scale model of the vehicle.

Called "ram-wing," the vehicle uses the familiar principles of airplane design and includes wings, a propeller and retractable landing gear. It makes use of a phenomenon known as ground effect, caused by an interaction among plane, air and ground, which means that the plane rises most effectively nearest the ground.

While other tube transportation systems exploit this phenomenon, they do so through the "air-cushion" effect. This type of system needs two power sources, one to float the vehicle above the ground and a second to move it forward.

The new craft, making use of what engineers call the ram-wing principle, uses a single power supply. Air is forced back by the propeller and deflected to the ground by the winged shape of the vehicle, thus forcing the craft up and forward simultaneously. It would fly through the tube about a foot above the ground level.

Mr. Knowlton's project is being supported by grants of about $10,000 a year from the U. S. Naval Air Turbine Test Station in Trenton. The working model, about one sixtieth the actual size of the vehicle, is five inches high and six feet long.

The model is powered by a model airplane engine through a 600-foot cardboard tunnel. It has reached speeds as high as 46 miles per hour in recent experiments.

Mr. Knowlton estimates that a full-size vehicle could reach speeds as high as 400 miles per hour, carrying about 70 passengers. Although he will not speculate on the cost, he believes that the system may prove less expensive than other tube systems under study.

FORMULA UNVEILED

Tigers Win Big When Mad. A month ago, Princeton lost its only basketball game of the season to Louisville, and three days later rewrote the national standings when it upset third-ranked North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

In early January, a disappointing performance against Yale in which it barely escaped with a two-point victory was followed by eye-popping fireworks against Harvard and Dartmouth. Smarting from the kind things said about them in their sloppy showing against the Elis, the Tigers shattered four Ivy League records at Hanover.

Last Saturday in the Palstra, they all but frittered away a 20-point lead, getting welcome relief from Father Time, who shook the last grains of sand out of the hour glass to help them preserve a wholly unimpressive 70-to-66 victory over Pennsylvania. "Overall," said Coach Bill van Breda Kolff for all to read in print, "we played a stupid game."

Forty-eight hours later, on a day billed in freezing New Brunswick as "Super Monday," Princeton took on a Rutgers quintet that had visions of toppling the Orange and Black out of the nation's top ten and recording one of the sweetest victories in nearly a century of athletic rivalry with its New Jersey neighbors. The Tigers won—not by just a little, not even by enough to be convincing, but big. It was a 97-74 final—the same 23-point margin that last month was the nation's biggest average point spread between victor and vanquished.

Defense the Difference. It is intriguing when a team that scores 97 points wins impressively primarily because it sparkled defensively, but that was very much the story. Brightest star in the Orange and Black sky was Joe Heiser, who held Bob Lloyd—the nation's third highest scorer with a 29.4 average—to 17, and only seven in the first half.

Heiser, meanwhile, finished with 19, he and Gary Walters (with 11) outscoring Lloyd and Jim Valvano, Rutgers' highly-regarded backcourt pair who had been averaging 50 points a game between them. The Scarlet guards settled for 25—exactly half their normal output. So expertly did Heiser guard Lloyd that it was the latter who fouled out with six minutes still to go.

Other Sports on

The roaring SRO crowd of 2,800, supplemented by 1,500 more watching closed circuit TV in a nearby auditorium, was treated to an action-packed ball game in which Rutgers twice rallied to keep the visitors within reach before the relentless Princeton pressure broke the contest open. The Tigers always led—by as much as 38-20 with four minutes to go in the first half—but the Scarlet cut that margin to 40-30 at the intermission.

The officiating threatened to play a major part in the outcome when both 6-9 Chris Thomforde and 6-6 Ed Hummer picked up three personals midway through the opening period. Thomforde was replaced by Robby Brown with 11:51 to go, and when Hummer drew a fourth foul just before the buzzer, van Breda Kolff broke precedent by going with both his 6-9 players during the decisive portion of the second half.

Haarlow Hot Again. High man for both teams was 6-7 forward John Haarlow, whose bee-line field goals (ten of them) and five foul shots gave him 25 points. With 13 in the first 20 minutes, he was the only Princetonian in double figures at the intermission.

Rutgers stayed close, trailing, 50-40, with four minutes gone, but three minutes later, it was 60 to 42 and little doubt left about the outcome. The crowd began to move into the gym as early as 4:30, bringing box lunches for the double-header that started at 0:15. Those who ate early enjoyed them—Princeton's unbeaten freshmen served up the appetizer by defeating their Rutgers counterparts, 76-62, to win their eighth straight. Jeff Petry, high school All-American, provided 28 points.

Little Opposition Expected. After having been trounced so thoroughly on their own courts last month by the Tigers, it is unlikely that either Dartmouth or Harvard will be within hailing distance of the Orange and Black this weekend by the time the first half ends. The size of the score after the first 20 minutes and by game's end will depend almost entirely on What's the catch?

There isn't any.

$1,639 is the suggested retail price at the port of entry for the VVV sedan.

The price includes Federal excise tax and import duty.

It also includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers, front seat belts, and sideview mirror.

It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model.

What else do you have to pay?

The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge. And local sales tax.

There is one optional that makes a lot of sense: the matching leatherette upholstery, for $30.00 extra. (Nearly everyone orders it because it eliminates the need for slip covers.) And that's it.

Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.

the degree of concentration Princeton shows.

In the first meetings of the teams, it was 50-19 at the half in the Harvard game and a 90 to 46 final. After 20 minutes at Hanover, Dartmouth trailed, 48-17, eventually losing by 116 to 42 in a record-breaking orgy. Despite the home-court advantage the Tigers will have, however, any repetition of the fantastic margin over Dartmouth is unlikely.

The Indians, now 7-8 on the season, last month won their first Ivy game in two years when they edged Harvard by four points at Hanover. Joe Colgan, averaging 15 points a game, is their scoring leader. They have some height in 6-7 Gunnar Malm and 6-6 Bill Stetlitz but lack both a standout player and any semblance of depth.

Harvard, returning to action this weekend after being idle since mid-January, began impressively in December for a team that has only one senior on the squad but has not won a game in 1967. Its losing streak currently stands at six. Sophomore Barth Royer, 6-6, is averaging 14 points a game in Ivy play to rank among the top ten. Coach Floyd Wilson may go with Royer, three other sophomores and Captain Gene Dressler, the only senior.

WRONG-WAY STREAK

Penn Outscores Tigers, 30 to 14. With some ten minutes to go in the second half at Philadelphia, Joe Heiser contributed a three-point play that gave Princeton a 20 point lead. It was 56-38 for the Tigers, and they apparently felt the ball game was about over.

Penn, despite the fact that the nation's sixth ranked team and the clock were both against it, failed to agree. In the remaining 10 minutes, the Quakers rang up 30 points on the board, held Princeton to 14 and did not miss by much pulling the Orange and Black into a totally-unanticipated four-way tie for the Ivy title.

While only Joe Heiser, with nine field goals and six fouls for 24 points, played a top-flight game for Princeton, the principal disappointment was the second half performance of sophomore Chris Thompson. After contributing 13 points in the first 20 minutes he was held scoreless thereafter, spending eight of the last ten minutes on the bench after being charged with his fourth personal.

Surprisingly, both of Penn's big players, 6-9 Frank Burgess and 6-10 Tom Mallison, generally a none-too-impressive pair, did well against the tall and presumably better Tigers. They combined for 28 points, exceeding their average total output by a good 65%.

Turnovers, balls lost on steals and poor foul shooting all plagued the Tigers during the evening. During the crucial minutes while Penn was rapidly eating into the Princeton lead, Robby Brown twice and Gary Walters once missed the first free throw on one-and-one situations. Fortunately for the visitors, Heiser made four foul shots under similar conditions and they combined with his last field goal to give Princeton its final six points.

SKATERS WIN A PAIR
May Extend Streak. Hopeful of extending its modest three-game winning streak to five—something a Princeton hockey team has not achieved in better than a decade—the Tiger sextet takes to the road again this weekend for games against Colgate and Dartmouth. Cornell's defending Ivy champions will be in Baker Rink next Wednesday night at 8.

Coach John Wilson's skaters will play Colgate at Hamilton, N. Y., Friday, traveling the long route to Hanover next day for a return meeting with Dartmouth. They already hold an 8-2 decision over the Green.

Two victories—one a distinct upset—were recorded by Princeton last weekend in its return to the ice after the exam break. Following a one-sided 7-0 shutout of outmanned Pennsylvania here, the Tigers bussed to Boston Saturday and upset favored Northeastern, 3 to 2. The Huskies' seven-game winning streak was snapped in the process.

Terry Peterman's four goals, two in each game, were the top achievement on offense during the weekend set. Sophomore Jerry Kearney also scored twice against Penn, which trailed, 5-0, at the end of the first period.

The rink in which the Quakers play is undersized, so much so that their passing as they come down ice is markedly weak. Regan Kerney had to block only 16 shots during the evening to achieve his first shut out.

Princeton at one point was down two men, but the visitors' attack could not provide sufficient firepower to avoid the whitewash. Penn picked up a misconduct (for sassing the ref) and a major (for spearing), but can ill afford the luxury of venting its feelings when it moves into the power-packed Ivy League next season.

Peterman's two goals and one by John Ritchie, blended with fine work in the goal by Kerney, provided the margin of victory over Northeastern. The Tigers never trailed, and outshot the home team, 33 to 28.

The game was less than nine minutes old when Peterman got his first, a ten-footer on which assists went to John Baker and Captain Gordie Gladman. They took a 2-0 lead in the second period on John Ritchie's 30-foot slap shot. Northeastern narrowing the margin before the period ended with its first goal of the evening.

Princeton was short-handed 27 seconds into the third round, but defenseman Tom Rawls fed Peterman, who circled the Huskies' cage and beat the goalie with a backhand flip from ten feet out.

Northeastern applied intense pressure for the remainder of the game, scoring at 14:03 but failing to produce the equalizer.

The Tigers lost Ritchie on a misconduct with 11 minutes to go and had two penalties called against them in the last six minutes. Kerney contributed a number of fine saves during this stretch to preserve the victory, Princeton's first in this series since 1962.

PHS PLAYS BEST GAME

But Loses 46-44. Playing its most balanced game of the season, the Princeton High School basketball team was only 41 seconds away from recording a well-deserved upset Friday over Ewing. Home team Ewing won, 46-44.

Only five games remain for the beleaguered Little Tigers—all of them stiff opponents. Friday evening at 8, in its next to last home appearance, PHS will entertain Steinert. Tuesday evening at 8, coach Tony Borzok's eagles will be at Trenton High School.

Neither Trenton (9-8) nor Steinert (7-7) is in the midst of an outstanding season, but both teams seem to have too much for PHS which has displayed little offense this year. Each has recorded victories over PHS earlier this winter.

Three-fourths of the Steinert team is Don Hess. In the first meeting between the two teams, Hess scored a career high of 41 points. A better balanced team than Steinert. Trenton toyed with PHS earlier on its way to an 81-54 win.

Frangos Puts PHS Ahead. To return to that heartbreaker against Ewing. The sequence in the final decisive minute of play was this: with 43 seconds to go, Jeff Frangos hit with a short jumper after grabbing a rebound to put PHS in front, 44-43.

The Blue and White seemed to be home clear, when with 10 seconds left, Ewing's Scott Stoner, playing for one good shot, was called for an offensive foul on Tom Wood under the basket. Ewing went into a full court press.

Ewing's Chip Cregar intercepted Princeton's first throw-in and drove in for a layup to give the home team a 45-44 edge. Then, as Marty Hines attempted to put the ball in play for PHS for a last shot, his long, arched pass hit an overhead girder. That gave Ewing possession.

With three seconds to go, Thom Yoder fouled Bob White of Ewing in an attempt to get the ball back. However, White converted the free throw with one second to go to make it a 46-44 final.

Despite the outcome, it was Princeton's finest game. This time, Borzok made no substitutions, partly because three players—Rich Volz, Alan Moring and Bob Upchurch—were sidelined with the flu. Yoder, Hines, Frangos (all juniors), Wood and Jeff Bullock played the entire game.

Yoder excelled for the losers, making 16 points and topping his previous high by two. Most of his points were from outside the key where he was popping them in all night.

Wood dipped from a 33-point performance in his previous start to nine against Ewing, but he was a standout on defense. He grabbed 12 rebounds and held Ewing's big man, Chuck Worthington, to 12 points. The ill-fated Hines added 11 and Frangos, seven.

The game was evenly fought throughout. After the first quarter the score was tied 14 all. Ewing took a two-point lead into the locker room but PHS came back to grab a similar lead, 37-35, at the three-quarter mark. The defeat was Princeton's 11th; it has won five.

Through 16 games, Wood leads all PHS scorers by a considerable margin with 230, a 14.4 average. Volz has 145, Bullock 104, and Hines 103.

PDS TEAMS IDLE

During Exam Break. The basketball and hockey teams at Princeton Day School have been inactive since January 20 because of school examinations.

Coach Dan Barren's quintet will next entertain George School Friday and Montclair Academy on Wednesday. Both games will start at 4 at the PDS gym. The Blue and White squad was scheduled to resume Wednesday at Rutgers Prep.

The hockey team will take to the ice again with gack-to-back contest, facing Taft School on Friday and Kent

Saturday. Both games will be away.

PHS SKATERS LOSE. Wissahickon Here Saturday. That string of victories belonging to the Princeton High School hockey team ended at four when the South Orange Hockey Club defeated the visiting Little Tigers Thursday, 5-2. The visitors own two of the five defeats suffered this season by the Blue and White.

Coach Pete Cook offered no alibis. "On this particular day, they were just stronger than we were," he said. He added, however, that he felt the play of his team on Thursday was "a little too casual."

PHS led 1-0 in the first period on Bobby Linder's goal Paul Rice assisting. The two then reversed roles to score Princeton's lone other goal, Rice scoring on an assist from Linder.

A new contest has been inserted into the schedule, Cook reported. The Ridgewood All-Stars, a hockey club from north Jersey, will oppose the Little Tigers Friday evening at 7:15 at the new Princeton Day School rink.

On Saturday, PHS will engage Wissahickon in a return match. That contest will be held at Baker Rink, starting at 1. Wissahickon won the first meeting, 8-4.

PHS MATMEN LOSE

Wrestle at Hopewell Friday. Two schools still in the process of getting their feet wet in wrestling will clash Friday afternoon.

Princeton High School will travel to Pennington for a 4 p.m. match with the Bulldogs of Hopewell Valley Central High School. It was originally set for last Friday but was postponed because of Friday's severe rainstorm.

On Wednesday, the Little Tigers will be at South Brunswick. In both meets, the jayvee teams will wrestle as well

Last week, PHS lost to its neighborhood rival, The Hun School. The score was 23 to 22. After the match, coach Tom Murray reported a spectator came up to him and said: "You have to get a license to lose like that: it's illegal."

If baseball is a game of inches, then wrestling is a contest of seconds. For example, in the next to last match, Murray reported that Ken Grob, Princeton's 178-pound entry, was leading his opponent by three points with only nine seconds to go. However, in those remaining seconds Grob was reversed and pinned.

"We could have led it right there," said Murray. "Ken just ran out of gas."

Final Match Close. The final match, on which the outcome of the entire meet hung, was just as close. There, two former football linemen collided.

Representing PHS was 200-lb. Rick Sisco, an outstanding guard on the Little Tiger eleven. His opponent was 245-lb. Duke Chute, standout tackle for the Johnny Huns. Chute won, 2-1.

The match was a surprise to Murray in that he had thought PHS would do well in the upper weights and would be less effective in the lower divisions. The reverse was true.

In the 168-lb. class, Marty Heltner, who Murray felt would be a "sure winner," lost a decision. In the 157-lb. level, Stu Bell of PHS was pinned. Both boys have been effective for the losers this year. In all, PHS surrendered 16 points in its last four matches.

Elsewhere, PHS was more impressive. After taking the 106 pound class by forfeit (five points), PHS won decisions in the 115-lb., 130-lb. and 151-lb. divisions. These were the work of Hank Wilkinson, Sam Proeaceli and Ross Bayer. Nick Arcaro engineered Princeton's only pin in the 148-lb. class.

In a Jayvee meet, PHS walloped the Hun junior varsity, 35 to 6. "We've got a lot of depth," said Murray. "We lose only three seniors—Sisco, Grob and Bell—so the next couple of years look pretty good to us."

HUN WINS, LOSES
In Penn-Jersey Play. A fine
56-45 victory over Solebury Saturday by Hun was offset by an 81-70 loss to Perkiomen last week. Both were outings in the Penn-Jersey Basketball League, where Hun is now
3-4.

Although still not out of contention, Hun is in a precarious position in the league.
At the moment, Moorestown is in first place with a 4-0 mark, followed by Bryn Athyn, 4-2; Solebury, 4-3; and Pennington, 3-3. However, with the exception of Solebury, Hun will play every other league member once more—five in all—and as Hun coach Dave Leete has often pointed out, anything can happen in the topsy-turvy Penn-Jersey circuit.

In its second meeting with Solebury, this one held at the Princeton Seminary gym, Hun got off to a shaky start. Halfway through the first period,
the visiting Spartans led, 11-4.

"Then we started to shoot well and everything went our way," commented Leete. A 19-9 second quarter helped the Hornets and Black turn the game around.

Freshman Mike Maguire enjoyed the best game in his brief career, connecting on a game-high total of 24 points.
He was backed by teammate
Don Silverson's 12, Karl Harter had eight. The win atoned for an earlier loss this season to Solebury.

Small Court Blues. Last week, Leete reported his team had a hard time adjusting to the small court of Perkiomen, located in Pennsburg, Pa. Four days before, Hun had performed well in the spacious, new PDS gymnasium. (Leete added that Perkiomen is building a new gym which will be ready in time for next season.)

Hun's problems were compounded by a poor, 30% shooting effort. Forty-four of Hun's 70 points were the work of Mark Short, Silverson and Maguire. They scored 18, 14, and 12 respectively.

BOWLING NOTES
Baldino Rolls 655. A final 243 pushed Joe Baldino to a 655 series last week in the Nassau League where Bill
Wholley also had a final 243 for a 621 series.

Nick Sculerati opened with a 246 but fell off to a 182-176 for a 604 effort. In single games, Ron Maddalon has 235 and George Kirby and Earl Wilbur each 220. Val Ranallo had 218-211, but most likely the happiest bowler in the league failed to reach the 200 level. Ken Wible had a 190, highest game of his one year career and virtually out of sight of his 126 average.

There were changes aplenty in the standings. Cifelli Electric and Princeton Aviation now share the top spot with 20 points each, displacing last

9,844 Deer Killed

The Department of Fish and Game has announced a total of 9,844 deer were killed in New Jersey during the 1966 season; 380
were bagged in Mercer County, including 91 by bow and arrow. The kill was the third highest on record for the state, exceeded only in 1959 and 1961, when more liberal regulations prevailed.

By season, 5,938 antlered bucks were taken during the regular firearm season, December 5 to 10, 75 were shot during the concurrent hunter's choice season in parts of five metropolitan counties; 2,504 were tagged on the one-day special permit season on December 17, and a record 1,327 were taken during the five-week bow-and- arrow
season.

Other statistics: more than 5,000 bucks have been shot every year since 1960;
two bears were bagged in Sussex County during the firearm season; and the largest number of deer killed was in Hunterdon County, where 1,634 were bagged,
and the smallest number, 2, was in Union County.

week's leader, Italian American Sportsmen Club. Tiger
Garage is second with 18,
ISAC third with 16 and Bear
Brook Tavern next with 14.

In the Three-Man Classic League, Dick Wyckoff had three 192 games for which he will receive triplicate award from ABC. Scoring honors went to Vick Wyszynski who worked the pins for a 219-179-236 — 634 series. Guido Zinet-ti had a pair of 212s on his way to 606 and Bill Dumble had a middle game of 223 for a final 604.

Dick Fowler and Mike Basile each had 225s. The highest single game, however, was Val Ranallo's 240, while Frank Maddalon was a consistent 202-203, as was Pete Lebknecher, 201-202.

Colonial Restaurant still leads second-place Procaccini Construction by a 41-33 margin. Decker's Dairy (30) and Farr Hardware (29) trail.

Nassau Del clung to its slim lead in the B League. It leads Balestrieri Construction by two points and has a six-point margin over Renwick's, Ste-fanelli's and Princeton Del.
The latter three are tied with 14 each.

Games of 200 or more were common. Bill Bahlke leveled the most pins — 653 on games of 158-231-264. (Had he maintained his progress, his fourth game would have been near 300.) Frank Hoffman sandwiched a sizzling 266 game with 180 and 163 for 609, while Harry Kahny had 224-181-203
— 608. High single games: Jim Kahny, 230; Bill Penelli, 224;
Bill Murphy, 221; Nick Sculerati, 221; and Larry Golden, 220; Eleven others rolled 200 or higher.

Mercer No. 3 regained the lead from Princeton No. 1 with which it was tied for first place in the Tri-County Firemen's League. No. 1 dropped into a three-way tie for second, with Kingston and Dutch Neck two points back.

Collectively, the firemen were somewhat cool. Bill Wholley's 222 was high, followed by Harry Kahny's 214 and Frank Stofko's 212. Bill Davall had 210 and Paul Ter-sky 192-193.

The Blue Angels high school league tightened considerably with the tailend Exports and King Pins sweeping all games from the two front-runners.
Taps still leads with 24 points with the Hi-Lo's and the other two teams all even at 20
each.

Tom Wood rolled 204, Mike
Skillman, 201, Stew Bell, 177,
Jim Silvester, 171, and Ken Grob, 170.

In the Business Women's League, Elaine Bartolino posted a 199, 89 pins over her average. Sarah Huneycutt rolled 196, Lillian Burrough 188-170
(505) and Barbara Gilliland
180-180 (519). Meila Cruser had 176, Cail Echevarria 174 and Diane Fowler, 173. Miss Huneycutt converted the difficult 6-7-10 split.

Team standings find Bucci Builders still in front with 16 points. Bunched two points back are MacKenzie Realty, Balestrieri Construction, Bilene's Day Nursery, and University Cleaners.

HEART FUND

The heart problem is more than just heart attack. It is a broad complex of heart and blood vessel diseases, including stroke, a major killer and disabler. Among other disorders are high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, rheumatic fever, inborn heart defects and congestive heart failure.

Together these diseases kill close to a million persons in the U.S. each year. They are no respecters of age or sex. They cost our economy an estimated $6.2 billion a year.

The cardiovascular diseases strike in many ways. One effective way for you to strike back is with a gift to your Heart Fund.

HOUSE HUNTING?

GROWING FAMILY? . . . in a very pleasant neighboring community, here is a large house (red shingles with white shutters and trim) that has 3 bedrooms, 2 baths on the ground floor, and a fully insulated second floor, with plumbing and heating ducts installed, which can easily be finished into 2 more bedrooms and bath when needed. At present, the house now has entry hall, carpeted living room and dining area, large modern kitchen with breakfast space, and family room with fireplace. Very liberal terms available to a qualified buyer. City water and city sewer. (Sole agent) $31,000

NEW COLONIAL . . . on an acre outside Princeton, with a view of the river, the house has living room, dining room, family room, kitchen and powder room on first floor. Second floor: master bedroom with dressing room and bath, 3 more bedrooms and bath. We believe this to be one of the best buys in the entire Princeton area, and strongly urge you to consider it before making up your mind. $38,900

TEN BEDROOMS . . . just outside Princeton, an old Victorian house with lofty shade trees and more than an acre of land, has been transformed into a wonderful place to live. The old part of the house has center hall, living room and dining room (both with fireplaces), breakfast room, kitchen and pantry. Second floor: 3 bedrooms and bath. Third floor: 2 bedrooms and bath. The new part, built in 1957, has central air-conditioning, and provides a huge paneled family room, master bedroom with dressing room and bath, a second bedroom and bath. Upstairs: 3 more bedrooms, 1 bath and laundry room. This all adds up to 10 bedrooms and 5 baths, and beyond all doubt, makes this property just about the nicest place for a big family which has come on the market in recent times. Immediate possession. (Sole agent) $55,000

TOWN HOUSE . . . right on Stockton Street, in the Borough, it has a wide entrance hall, living room with fireplace, dining room with fireplace, library, maid's room and bath, powder room . . . and a very up-to-date kitchen, recently done over, with lots of cabinets, electric dishwasher, disposal — everything that a perfect kitchen should have, and everything in perfect condition. Upstairs: sitting room with fireplace (this could also be a bedroom), 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. Third floor: 4 bedrooms, 1 bath. Outdoors: an inviting garden with flagstone terrace, and many huge old shade trees. This is a Victorian masterpiece, over a century old, which has been restored and decorated in excellent taste. If you have long been dreaming of moving your family into a house so big, and so beautiful, that even grandfather would have been proud to call it home . . . here is real opportunity. (sole agent) $85,000

RENTALS . . . furnished apartment, Borough, 2 bedrooms. $212

Hankscraft® cool-vapor® air circulator-humidifier

3-gallon portable—gently circulates, humidifies and filters dry indoor air

MODEL 255

$29.95

NEW EVAPORATIVE PROCESS RESULTS IN COMFORTABLE, CONTROLLED RELATIVE HUMIDITY — A fan inside the new circulator-humidifier pulls room air through the unit, forcing the air over a large reservoir of water. After absorbing moisture, the air travels back into room through a special filter. Because the Model 255 circulator-humidifier can add moisture only to the extent that surrounding air can absorb it, room air cannot become oversaturated.

This new circulator-humidifier literally fills a room with comfort. It operates a continuing cycle of gentle circulation, proper humidification, and thorough filtering. The new Model 255 is relatively small, and attractively styled.

- Eliminates lime dust "fall-out" — lime is caught and held by filter
- Filter removes for easy cleaning
- 6 ft. cord with on-off switch
- Extra-large 3-gallon capacity; runs many hours — hinged top makes filling easy
- Entire operating section may be removed for cleaning — no screws
- Operation is extremely quiet — there is no splash noise
- Entire unit is built for years of trouble-free service — durable plastic
